Institutional Effectiveness Weekly Report

April 12, 2019

The Office of Planning and Assessment reports its weekly activities and contributions toward Texas Tech University's institutional effectiveness efforts and departmental objectives.

This week's report features an update on the 2019 TxAHEA conference, which will be held in San Antonio, TX on October 1-2. The conference hotel is the Marriott Plaza, which is just a block from the Riverwalk.

Conference Theme: Continuous Improvement: The Battle, The Mission, The Myth

Keynote Speaker

The TxAHEA Planning Committee is excited to have Dr. Ashley Finley as the keynote speaker for the 2019 Annual Conference. Dr. Finley is the Senior Advisor to the President and Vice President of Strategic Planning and Partnerships for the Association of American Colleges and Universities (AAC&U). Dr. Finley's research and campus consultations focus on connecting best practices for program implementation, assessment design, and equity with institutional outcomes for student success and strategic planning. A significant component of this work at the campus and national levels has focused on the connection of students' personal development (such as resilience, belonging, identity, and sense of purpose) with their learning and civic engagement. She has published a number of articles, book chapters, and monographs, including Assessing Underserved Students' Engagement in High-impact Practices (with co-author Tia McNair), Civic Learning and Teaching; Assessing Underserved Students' Engagement in High-Impact Practices; and "Well-Being: An Essential Outcome for Higher Education." Dr. Finley will be speaking on community-engaged signature work at the TXAHEA Annual Conference, but the specific title has yet to be determined.

Marketing Efforts

The marketing subcommittee has been diligently spreading the word regarding proposal submissions for the upcoming 2019 conference. The call for proposals announcement has been distributed monthly to several assessment listservs, faculty and staff at TTU, UNT, Tarrant County College, and ASU as well as Texas higher education programs, SACSCOC liaisons, and a list of previous conference attendees. Flyers have also been distributed at the spring LEAP and TAIR conferences and a student learning summit at Tarrant County Community College. Beginning May 1st, the subcommittee will turn their focus to marketing conference registration. This year, we also plan to offer a 2019 Conference T-shirt for purchase for $15 to assist with conference revenue and to hopefully allow more flexibility with marketing efforts in future years. A marketing video was created from last year's conference photos and is available here:

Proposals

The link to submit a proposal presentation for TxAHEA 2019 opened on February 1 with an original deadline of April 1 when 27 had been received. The deadline was extended to April 15 hoping to receive a few additional to total about 40. The response is summarized in the table below. Proposals received thus far are now being evaluated by Proposals Sub-Committee members and proposals received later will be evaluated after April 15. We are very pleased with the response thus far. A wide variety of institutions and topics are represented.

Conference Evaluations

The TxAHEA Evaluation Committee discussed potential changes to this year's conference evaluations. Because this is the second year of the TxAHEA conference, the committee thought perhaps we could distinguish between first-time attendees and repeat-attendees. Additionally, the committee would like to propose the idea of possibly providing evaluation results to all conference attendees and to the keynote speaker. In summary, the evaluation process will remain very similar to last year's paper distribution. A committee member discussed the possibility of hosting a session at the end of the conference for face-to-face feedback; however, this has not been decided on at this time.

Conference Partners

Texas Tech University collaborates closely with our partner institutions. We meet on a monthly basis for approximately one hour. Here is a screenshot of Planning Committee Members and their respective institutional affiliations:

501(c)(3) Development

This specific committee is developing a set of association by-laws and a founding constitution. Before filing articles of incorporation, an Executive Board must be elected. We are currently in the process of holding nominations for Executive Board positions, and we expect that the Board will be finalized by April 30, 2019. After the Board is determined, the association can submit articles of incorporation. We hope to have the association's non-profit status established no later than December 2019.
