FROM HERE, IT’S POSSIBLE.
TEXAS TECH UNIVERSITY is a public research university in Lubbock, Texas. From its inception in 1923, Texas Tech has long been the draw for students wanting a comprehensive, quality education to help realize their life goals. It’s also a place steeped in tradition where the sound of victory bells heralds community spirit as much as a Red Raider win. Marked by Spanish Renaissance architecture against an endless blue sky, it’s one of the nation’s most inviting universities.
Texas Tech is one of the only institutions in the state with a law school, graduate school and medical school at the same location as the main undergraduate campus – making the transition to professional studies much easier. With nearly 150 academic programs in ten colleges, including the Honors College, you’ll have many unique learning options that will allow you to create your own challenging experience. Texas Tech undergraduates have been recognized as Goldwater, Gates Cambridge and Truman Scholars, joining notable faculty in a rich environment for success.

www.admissions.ttu.edu/academics

The Honors College allows you to work with our top faculty in small, interdisciplinary classes. Live with fellow honors students in designated suites and have the unique advantage of experiencing a small, intellectually and socially vibrant learning environment. Admission to the Honors College is competitive and requires a separate application from general undergraduate admission. Early application is encouraged.

SPIRIT & TRADITION

LIFE AS A RED RAIDER

SPIRIT & TRADITION

MASKED RIDER

First started as a gag in the 1930’s, the Masked Rider has become the official mascot of Texas Tech. Each year, a selected student will don the mask and cape and ride a black horse. Among their many appearances, perhaps the most awe-inspiring is when the Masked Rider leads the team onto the football field.

THE GOIN’ BAND FROM RAIDERLAND

The award-winning marching band at Texas Tech is the largest student organization on campus and holds the distinction of being the first collegiate marching band to travel in support of a football program.

www.goinband.org

CAROL OF LIGHTS

This holiday tradition is an elaborate light display with a parade and thousands of attendees from the campus and Lubbock community.
Even with nearly 250,000 residents, Lubbock is a true college town with everything you want, need, and expect. You'll feel safe in Lubbock, and it will be your home away from home. And when you need to connect with your family, it's easy to get there whether by car or air. Several major airlines service Lubbock’s airport.

ENTERTAINMENT

From the Depot Entertainment District to theaters like Alamo Drafthouse, Lubbock offers plenty of places to keep students entertained. Students love to explore the nightlife, historical museums, or nearby outdoor adventures. Home of legendary singer Buddy Holly, Lubbock’s musical heritage attracts high profile names of entertainment.

DINING

Lubbock offers a variety of local restaurants students fall in love with. Some include the fried cheese at Spanky’s, the calzones at One Guy from Italy, the pasta at Orlando’s, and the burritos at Sazon. But there are plenty of favorites you already know like Torchy’s Tacos, Pei Wei, Chuy’s, and Rudy’s BBQ. You’ll never go hungry!

STUDENT SPOTLIGHT

Winnifred Drum
Interior Design Major
Los Angeles, California

“When I visited the Texas Tech campus, I knew that this was a place where I could see myself. The people were so friendly, not just on campus but around town as well. There are plenty of cultural and musical events to attend and students find their own favorite hangouts throughout the city. I came to Lubbock knowing absolutely no one, and now I’ve made my own family of friends, and some great memories.”
Whether you’re headed to professional school or the career world, it’s our mission to make sure you’re prepared. Texas Tech students graduate with the practical knowledge and skills needed to contribute immediately to whatever endeavors they pursue. It’s no wonder the Wall Street Journal ranked us among the top 25 colleges in the nation for graduating the most well-prepared students. A degree from Texas Tech sets you up for success.
