Hello from the PreLaw Leadership Team

PreLaw Program Assistant: Benjamin Rohrbaugh

Hello and welcome to, or back to, Texas Tech University. My name is Benjamin Rohrbaugh and I am the PreLaw Program Assistant for the 2017 calendar year. The PreLaw leadership is excited for all the great things planned this semester and look forward to meeting you all throughout the semester. We will be hosting various events such as LSAT Study Groups, Mock LSAT, Roundtables, weekly online blog, and more… Navigate back to our main page, prelaw.ttu.edu, and look for our detailed calendar and monthly calendars. The monthly calendars highlight various important academic date and resources on campus for students.

We at PreLaw are here for you, the student, during any step of your academic career, even if you decide law school may not be for you. If your schedule conflicts with events but you would still like more information you can set up a one-on-one appointment with a PreLaw Ambassador at your convenience. Call (806) 742-2189, email prelaw@ttu.edu, or reach out to the Ambassador of your choice for more info on anything PreLaw. Below are short biographies from our leadership team. Don’t forget to check out the biographies from all our Ambassadors posted on our site. Good luck with classes.

PreLaw Community Outreach Chair: Emory Osborn

Born in Dallas, Texas Emory Osborn is the oldest of five children and comes from a family of Red Raiders. Emory has always wanted to attend Texas Tech and began her Undergraduate education in August of 2014. Emory began as a General Business major and after doing further research about potential career paths, she came across the Child Advocacy field of Law. It was then that Emory decided this is where her heart and passion in the workforce would be...

…Emory will be graduating in December of 2017 with a Bachelor’s of Science Degree with a major in University Studies, with three concentrations in: Human Development and Family Studies, Sociology, and Legal Studies. Upon graduation, she plans to attend law school in the Fall of 2018 at a law school here in Texas. She is looking at Texas Tech University School of Law, Southern Methodist Dedman School of Law, and Texas A&M University School of Law. She is very interested SMU Dedman School of Law because of their W.W. Caruth, Jr. Child Advocacy Clinic along with their Innocence Clinic. Both of these areas she is interested in and passionate about.

PreLaw Community Outreach Chair: Jacob Goodner

Jacob Goodner is a junior at Texas Tech University, and is working on a degree from the Rawls College of Business. When Jacob was a freshman in high school, he knew that he wanted to be a lawyer. Since then, he’s been taking steps towards law school. Jacob got involved with the PreLaw events on campus by attending the round tables and other professional events to help further his network and understanding of going to Law School. In spring of his freshman year of college, Jacob became a PreLaw Ambassador so that he can help prospective law students the same way the older Ambassadors helped him.

Jacob’s interests include reading, martial arts, movies, music and rock climbing. Contact him for information regarding PreLaw or if you would like to go climbing.

PreLaw Social Media Chair: Natalia Tsokos

Natalia Tsokos is a sophomore at Texas Tech University where she is majoring in Social Work with a minor in Legal Studies. Natalia loves to read, travel, and LAUGH. Natalia feels honored to be able to a part of the Texas Tech PreLaw program. Natalia has learned so much about pursuing a future in law and has made some great friends along the way.

Natalia is a firm believer in being the change you want to see and she thinks practicing law will allow her to do that. Natalia wants to pursue Child Advocacy Law and be able to stand up for a child that cannot stand up for themselves. Natalia doesn’t think any child’s life should fall short from a safe, loving, and encouraging.

Natalia is undecided on where she wants to attend Law School. Her main focus as a sophomore is to prepare herself for the application process and do well on the LSAT. Natalia believes she will end up at the right school for her when the time comes. In the meantime, she’s focused on the work it takes to get in!
