Version III - 2008
Appropriate Use and Security of Confidential and Sensitive Information

Due to the integration of Student, Human Resources, and Finance modules in Banner, it is imperative that you understand the importance of records security in regard to the access you may have in Banner. You may be granted access to information beyond what you need to perform your assigned office duties, but you should adhere to only the areas you are responsible for. Your access into Banner has been granted based on job duties and it is your responsibility to ensure the information you have access to is used appropriately.

Because you have access to confidential information on currently enrolled and former students, it is important that you comply with and are aware of the FERPA Act of 1974 (Family Education Rights Privacy Act). All information, unless you have been given written consent from the student, should be used for legitimate educational purposes only. It is necessary that All University employees become familiar with the following policies.

Always as a precaution, below are some good standards you should always follow.

- Do not share your password(s) or store them in an unsecured manner.
- Do not leave your workstation unattended; it is your responsibility to keep any activity attached to your login id secured.
- Do not share any confidential and sensitive information with anyone, including colleagues, unless there it is to be used for business purposes.
- Do not leave any documentation that has any identifiable information pertaining to a student on your workstation without you being there to secure and protect it.
- ALWAYS, securely dispose of all documents, reports, screen prints, handouts that contain confidential and sensitive information by destroying or shredding up those documents.

Contact the Office of the Registrar or refer to the Office of the Registrar’s WEB site to find out more information pertaining to FERPA.

Admissions Process

Before an application can be created, the applicant must exist in SPAIDEN.

All applicants must be entered on SPAIDEN prior to being entered in any of the Banner Admissions Forms. Once an applicant has been entered, a Tech ID will be generated that is unique to that person. All information pertaining to that person will be entered using that Tech ID. This Tech ID is the person’s TTU and TTUHSC identifier and must be protected as the Social Security number is.

Once a person has been created in SPAIDEN, additional information can be entered into the Banner Admissions Forms, SAAADMS, SOATEST, SOAPCOL, SOAHSCH, etc.

Banner Forms associated in processing admissions:

SPAIDEN  Main form used to capture biographical/demographic information
SAAADMS  Main form used to create and maintain admissions applications
SOATEST  Used to enter and update test score information
SOAHSCH  Used to enter and update High School information including the class rank
SOAPCOL  Used to enter and update College information
