Arch 3601 391

The Making of Design Principles

Syllabus

Instructor: Bryan Buie

Course Description

The studio will have two projects both lasting six and half weeks. The first project will be the design of a black box theater, the second project will be an observatory. Each project will be based on a series of design exercises that are fundamental and generalizable to all building types, as well as developable, each one, to a high level of artistic sophistication. Each student will be given a 2'x 2' x 2' wire mesh cube, which will be referred to as "the matrix." All modeling exercises will be conducted in the matrix using string and chipboard.

The most important lesson of this studio is learning how to make decisions. Decisions are laser-guided choices that are similar to algorithmic steps, but there is more to architecture, art, and life than that. In the Making of Design Principles students will learn how to setup a design problem, how to experience moments of discovery, how to see moments of pattern/logic recognition that are so fundamental to building an idea or argument. To see and understand these moments will be the source of inspiration, the connective logic that makes meaning, it is architecture's source as an art.

Grading

Grading is based on individual performance, daily progress and the products produced over the course of the term, and final reviews. Everything relative to the studio production is part of the process. Production and hard work are expected. Improvement and growth are essential. Assessment is not negotiated and is based on years of experienced judgement of student work by the instructor.

General evaluation criteria considered in terms of participation, intention, development, and resolution on a 0-100 scale from conceptual strength; articulation and development; technical competency, clarity, and craft; clear and concise verbal or written presentation; passion, commitment, dedication, work ethic, and the ability to ask relevant questions.

Project weighting for the semester will be:

Project One: Black Box Theatre

Participation = 10%

Weekly Individual Performance = 30%

Intention, Development, Resolution, Production

Total = 40%

Project Two: Observatory

Participation = 10%

Weekly Individual Performance = 50%

Total = 60%

Total Grade = 100%

COVID 19 Information

Face coverings are required. Texas Tech University requires that students wear face coverings while in classes, while otherwise in campus buildings, and when social distancing cannot be maintained outdoors on campus.

Signage. Be attentive to signage posted at external and some classroom doorways that indicates entry and exit ways, gathering and queuing spaces, and availability of masks and hand sanitizer.

Seating assignments. The purpose of assigned seating is to assist in contact tracing, if necessary, and to augment social distancing. Students are expected to sit at a minimum of six feet apart. Seats in your studio will be marked as available and unavailable. A required seating chart will be created once everyone is positioned with appropriate social distancing. There will also be an orderly procedure, designed to ensure social distancing, for exiting the classroom. Please consult the Guidebook distributed at the All School Meeting for detailed information.

Illness-Based Absence Policy

If at any time during this semester you feel ill, in the interest of your own health and safety as well as the health and safety of your instructors and classmates, you are encouraged not to attend face-to-face class meetings or events. Please review the steps outlined below that you should follow to ensure your absence for illness will be excused. These steps also apply to not participating in synchronous online class meetings if you feel too ill to do so and missing specified assignment due dates in asynchronous online classes because of illness.

1. If you are ill and think the symptoms might be COVID-19-related:

- a. Call Student Health Services at 806.743.2848 or your health care provider. After hours and on weekends contact TTU COVID-19 Helpline at 806.743.2911.
- b. Self-report as soon as possible using the Dean of Students COVID-19 webpage. This website has specific directions about how to upload documentation from a medical provider and what will happen if your illness renders you unable to participate in classes for more than one week.
- c. If your illness is determined to be COVID-19-related, all remaining documentation and communication will be handled through the Office of the Dean of Students, including notification of your instructors of the period of time you may be absent from and may return to classes.
- d. If your illness is determined not to be COVID-19-related, please follow steps 2.a-d below.

2. If you are ill and can attribute your symptoms to something other than COVID-19:

- a. If your illness renders you unable to attend face-to-face classes, participate in synchronous online classes, or miss specified assignment due dates in asynchronous online classes, you are encouraged to visit with either Student Health Services at 806.743.2848 or your health care provider. Note that Student Health Services and your own and other health care providers may arrange virtual visits.
- b. During the health provider visit, request a "return to school" note;
- c. E-mail the instructor a picture of that note;

d. Return to class by the next class period after the date indicated on your note.

Following the steps outlined above helps to keep your instructors informed about your absences and ensures your absence or missing an assignment due date because of illness will be marked excused. You will still be responsible to complete within a week of returning to class any assignments, quizzes, or exams you miss because of illness.

If you have interacted with individual(s) who have tested positive for COVID-19:

Maintain a list of those persons and consult Student Health Services at 806-743-2911 or your primary care provider on next steps.

Do not return to class until you are medically cleared by your Health Care Provider.

UNIVERSITY and COLLEGE POLICIES

ACADEMIC REGULATIONS

Please consult the Texas Tech University Undergraduate and Graduate Academic Catalog 2018-2019 and the Texas Tech University Student Handbook for information about dropping a course, reporting illness, absence due to religious observance and academic integrity.

ADA Statement

Any student who, because of a disability, may require special arrangements in order to meet the course requirements should contact the instructor as soon as possible to make any necessary arrangements. Students should present appropriate verification from Student Disability Services during the instructor's office hours. Please note: instructors are not allowed to provide classroom accommodations to a student until appropriate verification from Student Disability Services has been provided. For additional information, please contact Student Disability Services in West Hall or call 806-742-2405.

Academic Integrity

Academic integrity is taking responsibility for one's own class and/or course work, being individually accountable, and demonstrating intellectual honesty and ethical behavior. Academic integrity is a personal choice to abide by the standards of intellectual honesty and responsibility. Because education is a shared effort to achieve learning through the exchange of ideas, students, faculty, and staff have the collective responsibility to build mutual trust and respect. Ethical behavior and independent thought are essential for the highest level of academic achievement, which then must be measured. Academic achievement includes scholarship, teaching, and learning, all of which are shared endeavors. Grades are a device used to quantify the successful accumulation of knowledge through learning. Adhering to the standards of academic integrity ensures grades are earned honestly. Academic integrity is the foundation upon which students, faculty, and staff build their educational and professional careers. [Texas Tech University ("University") Quality Enhancement Plan, Academic Integrity Task Force, 2010]

Religious Holy Day

“Religious holy day” means a holy day observed by a religion whose places of worship are exempt from property taxation under Texas Tax Code §11.20. A student who intends to observe a religious holy day should make that intention known in writing to the instructor prior to the absence. A student who is absent from classes for the observance of a religious holy day shall be allowed to take an examination or complete an assignment scheduled for that day within a reasonable time after the absence. A student who is excused under section 2 may not be penalized for the absence; however, the instructor may respond appropriately if the student fails to complete the assignment satisfactorily.

Civility in the Classroom

Texas Tech University is a community of faculty, students, and staff that enjoys an expectation of cooperation, professionalism, and civility during the conduct of all forms of university business, including the conduct of student–student and student–faculty interactions in and out of the classroom. Further, the classroom is a setting in which an exchange of ideas and creative thinking should be encouraged and where intellectual growth and development are fostered. Students who disrupt this classroom mission by rude, sarcastic, threatening, abusive or obscene language and/or behavior will be subject to appropriate sanctions according to university policy. Likewise, faculty members are expected to maintain the highest standards of professionalism in all interactions with all constituents of the university. Consult TTUs Statement of Ethical Principles.

LGBTQIA Support

I identify as an ally to the lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, queer, intersex, and asexual (LGBTQIA) community, and I am available to listen and support you in an affirming manner. I can assist in connecting you with resources on campus to address problems you may face pertaining to sexual orientation and/or gender identity that could interfere with your success at Texas Tech. Please note that additional resources are available through the Office of LGBTQIA within the Center for Campus Life, Student Union Building Room 201, www.lgbtqia.ttu.edu, 806.742.5433.

ATTENDANCE

The CoA's Attendance Policy states that students are responsible for attending all scheduled class meetings for the full class period. A total of four (4) absences is considered excessive, requiring the student to drop the course or receive a grade of “F” in compliance with drop deadlines. Arriving late or leaving early will be recorded as a partial absence. All absences are considered unexcused except absences due to religious observance or officially approved trips. Students are expected to comply with rules for reporting student illness requiring absence from class for more than one week or immediate family member deaths. See Academic Regulations. Attendance is defined as full participation in all studio activities including group and individual critiques, lectures, presentations, demonstrations, discussions, in class assignments, and possible field trips. Attendance requires students to have the necessary tools and supplies available for all studio activities (i.e.: computer, drawing and modeling materials, and shop safety equipment). Excessive tardiness, leaving early, lack of participation, walking in and out, undivided attention, goofing around, and disruptive behavior will be recorded as an absence. Working on assignments from other classes is not allowed during class time.
