How to Satisfy Foreign Language Requirement

Students may satisfy the standard competency level by enrolling in a 6-hour program for graduate students offered in French, German, Classics & Portuguese by the Department of Classical and Modern Languages and Literatures. The second half of such a program must be passed with a grade of B- or better.

The third method of fulfilling the language proficiency requirement is by passing a standardized examination. Consult with the advisor in the Department of Classical and Modern Languages and Literatures for proficiency exams furnished by the department and the Educational Testing Service and administered by the university’s Testing Center. Arrangements for these examinations should be made in the applicable unit. The Department of Classical and Modern Languages and Literatures will administer the examinations in any other foreign language in which instruction is offered by the department. Arrangements for testing for other foreign languages will be approved by the graduate dean.
