

School Counseling and Advising for the Future

■ Explore

- TEA Strategic Plan – Priority 3 Connect high school students to career & college
- Tri Agency Workforce Initiative
- Effective Advising Framework

■ Engage

- LSSSCA Conference
 - Logan Minshew – TEA Director, Counseling, Advising, and Student Supports College, Career, and Military Preparation Division
- TEA Implementation Grant Cohort 1
 - Review all LEA grant applications
- Consult with ESC EAF Coach
 - Region 10 EAF Coach – Nickisha Fowler
 - EAF Coach for Community ISD and Farmersville ISD

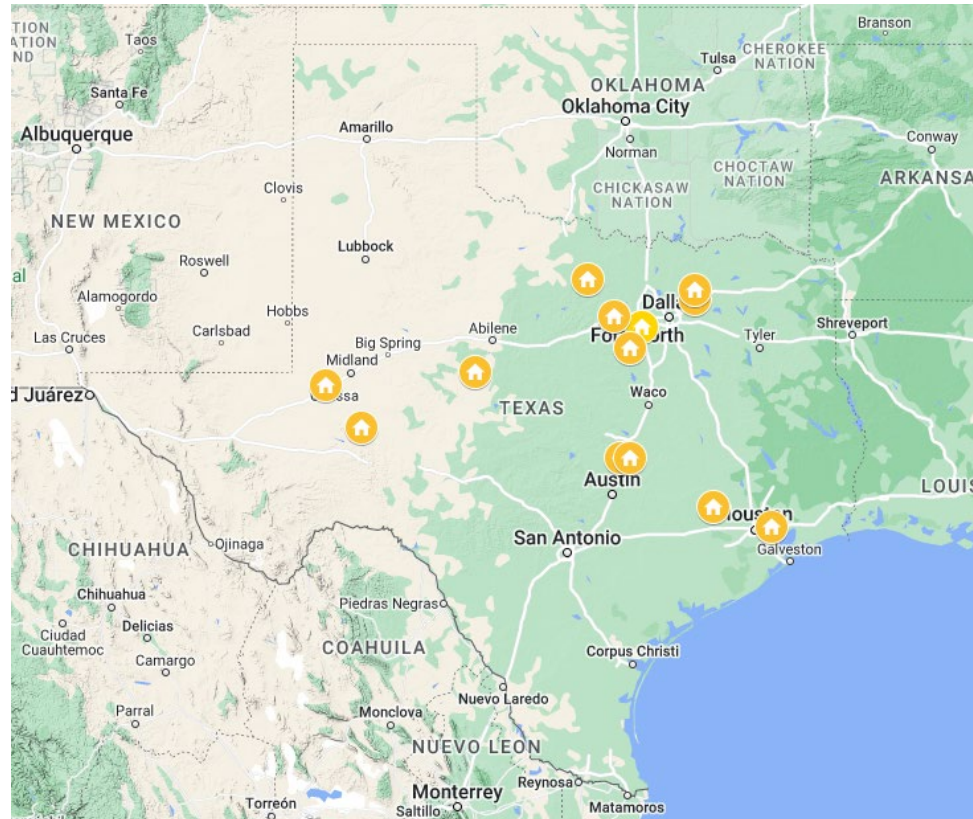

The IEL Equity Impact Framework

EPFP™ POLICY
LEADERSHIP
NETWORKING

Education Policy Fellowship Program

School Counseling and Advising for the Future

District	Total Enrollment
Bartlett ISD	394
Channelview ISD	9,503
Cleburne ISD	7,036
Community ISD	3,335
Ector County ISD	31,762
Everman ISD	5,457
Farmersville ISD	2,018
Hempstead ISD	1,584
Jacksboro ISD	1,077
Jarrell ISD	2,882
Rankin ISD	312
Weatherford ISD	8,005
Winters ISD	552

Cohort 1 Districts

TEA EAF Prioritized Levers

Prioritized Levers are the components that work together to coordinate and implement the individual planning system within the comprehensive school counseling program.

1. Strong Program Leadership and Planning
2. Effective, Well-Supported School Counselors and Advisors
3. Internal School Culture of Advising
4. Effective External Partnerships
5. High Quality Advising Tools and Resources

Sample Key Practice

All new and returning school counselors and advisors complete recent, high-quality training specific to their role in effective advising service delivery on an annual basis.

School counseling program staff evaluations are managed by a qualified campus leader who is well-versed in school counseling and advising responsibilities. Whenever possible, it is recommended that evaluations are completed by someone who has been a certified school counselor or is trained in effective advising and the Texas Model for Comprehensive School Counseling.

School counseling program staff growth and learning are supported by professional development to successfully facilitate all students' academic, career, personal, and social development, as well as financial literacy.

Amanda Knight, Texas EPFP 2022-2023 Fellow

