

Teacher Engagement in Education Policy

- Initial survey showed teachers felt fairly informed on the issues, if they were to consume more content to get informed it would be through videos or weekly emails
- Drafted emails or phone messages and sent to teachers with how to contact their representative; all they had to do was copy/paste or make the phone call
- Next steps: grow my list, streamline the process for finding & contacting their specific representative, take data to assess effectiveness

If there was a better way for teachers/ community members to be informed (in a non-biased manner), which medium would you use?
