USING THE DISCUSSION BOARD
in Blackboard Learn 9.1

Veronica Valenzuela Sanchez

WHY
When used effectively, it becomes the center of learning.
- Conversations evolve
- Students demonstrate understanding of material
- Connections are made between students, instructor, and material.

ADVANTAGES
For students
- Asynchronous
- Higher level of learning
- Increased student participation
- Students & instructors can revisit the discussion
For instructors:
- Can be moderated
- Can easily be graded
- Organization of topics discussed
USES

- Reflection, synthesizing, and analysis.
- Collaboration
- Student introductions
- Assessment of understanding content
- Debates
- Course Q&A
- Think about the activities you would do in class:
  - Role playing
  - Software demonstrations
  - Student presentations
  - Guest speakers

Learn 9.1

- Discussion Board
- Forums - an area where participants discuss a topic or a group of related topics. Within each forum, participants can create multiple threads.
- Threads - includes all posts
- Reply

Blogs and Journals are separate tools.

NEW TO BLACKBOARD 9

- Role assignment (manager, moderator, grader, participant, reader)
- Moderated forums
- Grade entries within the tool or in the Grade Center
- Anonymous Grading available
- Specify number of posts required before Needs Grading icon appears in Grade Center
DEVELOPING A DISCUSSION

Define participation requirements

Students need to be aware of your expectations. Is grammar and punctuation graded?

DEVELOPING A DISCUSSION

Craft an effective question

• Avoid “yes” or “no” questions.
• Promote critical thinking with open-ended questions.
• Incorporate multimedia resources.
• Allow students to reply with multimedia.

DEVELOPING A DISCUSSION

Encourage new ideas

• Interject questions that provoke out of the box thinking.
• If discussion posts contain too much agreement and not enough questioning of ideas, try assigning students to support the pro or con side.
DEVELOPING A DISCUSSION

Moderate
- Establish your presence.
- Assign roles such as student led

TIP
- Model proper online interaction and reinforce appropriate behavior with public recognition.

COMMENTING & FEEDBACK
- Remember that your goals are to encourage your students to write more, examine their own writing and learning, and feel comfortable sharing their thoughts and opinions.
- Some instructors award credit for completion rather than in-depth grading, while relying on commenting to encourage, suggest, and guide student responses.
- Focus on content and ideas rather than grammar and punctuation.
- Alert students ahead of time when the mechanics are part of the grade or feedback.
- Always provide positive comments along with areas needing further work.
- Make comments that let students know you are a willing audience who looks forward to their writing.
- Build opportunities for revision into graded reflective writing assignments so students can learn from your comments and refine their work.
