Proceedings of the Comparative Literature Symposium, Vol. VII
January 23, 24, and 25, 1974

JOSEPH CONRAD:
Theory and World Fiction

Editors
Wolodymyr T. Zyla
Wendell M. Aycock

Editorial Board
Kenneth W. Davis
Carl Hammer, Jr.
Patricia M. Hopkins

INTERDEPARTMENTAL COMMITTEE ON COMPARATIVE LITERATURE
TEXAS TECH UNIVERSITY
LUBBOCK, TEXAS, 1974
Table of Contents

Preface ........................................... 5

Joseph Conrad: A Commemoration

“The Precious Yesterday”: Commemorative Remarks for the Joseph Conrad Symposium ........................................... 13
David Leon Higdon

Symposium Lectures

Conrad's Picaresque Narrator: Ma'rlow's Journey from “Youth” through Chance ........................................... 17
Alan Warren Friedman

Joseph Conrad: Polish Cosmopolitan .................. 41
Adam Gillon

Conrad, Graham Greene, and Film ........................... 71
Bruce Harkness

James Wait as Pivot: Narrative Structure in The Nigger of the “Narcissus” ................................................. 89
Marion C. Michael

Conrad and the Idea of Honor .......................... 103
Zdzisław Najder

The Imprint of Polish on Conrad's Prose .................. 117
I. P. Pulc

The Essential Conrad ........................................... 141
Norman Sherry

Flaubert and the Structure of The Secret Agent: A Study in Spatial Form ................................................. 151
Jeffrey R. Smitten

Conrad’s Legacy: The Concern with Authenticity in Modern Fiction ................................................. 167
Ivo Vidan

Luncheon Presentation

Conrad as Editor: The Preparation of The Shorter Tales ........... 189
Donald W. Rude

Notes on the Authors ........................................... 197