English 2311Prerequisite: ENGL 1301 and 1302.Introduction to Technical Writing

English 2311 assists students in developing the writing ability required by their future professions. Six to nine writing assignments are required. Students in this class will analyze the communication situation fully and accurately (needs, audiences, uses, and constraints); gather, interpret, and document information logically, efficiently, and ethically; develop professional work and teamwork habits; and design usable, clear, persuasive, accessible workplace documents.

 Students will get an email from the instructor of their class telling them what to do. Students need Moodle (the instructor will send a link) and Skype (free download). Different instructors use these differently. If the class is conducted in Skype, students need to be able to hear and to talk into a microphone, whether on a headset or on their computer. Online classes have regular meetings, only they happen via chat or Skype rather than in a classroom. Expect to do more things out of class. Expect to be a more independent learner. Professors will have online office hours. It's not as personal as being in a room with people. Do not expect it will be less work -- in fact, there's more out-of-class work, because the class meetings are more restricted.
