Saturday, November 14, 9:00 a.m. – 3:00 p.m.

The Graduate School is hosting a Thesis/Dissertation Writing Camp

- Intended for graduate students who are in the writing of the first draft phase and at least a couple of chapters into the writing of their thesis or dissertation. This is not intended for students in the brainstorming or prospectus writing phase. The Graduate School does offer workshops for help with brainstorming and formatting and you can visit our event calendar for dates <http://www.depts.ttu.edu/gradschool/grdschInfo/gradschoolEvents.php>.
- Requirements: We need participants to submit a 5-10 page writing sample (of your thesis or dissertation material) by Friday, October 30th. This will give the instructors (graduate part-time instructors in the creative writing and English graduate departments) time to review your sample and be able to offer feedback at the actual camp.
- Agenda: Morning session will include presentations of a writing matrix (organization of your Thesis and Dissertation), common writing errors and grammar overview, and small group sessions for feedback of your previously submitted material. Following lunch, you will be given time to first re-write the draft that you sent for review as well as write new material and then individually interact with instructors on that newly written material.
