The Environment and the Humanities (EVHM) major is an interdisciplinary approach to the study of the environment and how humans relate to and interact with that environment. EVHM’s flexibility means that it can be customized to fit a student’s future academic and occupational goals, such as studying law or medicine, writing about nature or the environment or photographing the natural world. 120 coursework hours are required for completion of the EVHM major. At least 30 of these hours must be upper-level. Minors are not required for the EVHM degree but many students choose to add an English minor.
