Do I need a dining plan?

As an on-campus resident, students are required to have a dining plan.

Which dining plan should I get?

Eat three times a day? Snack late at night? Not really a breakfast person? Sleep in on the weekends? Have a job off-campus? Don’t worry – there’s a plan for you. Have a question about which plan you should choose? Visit the Hospitality website (www.hospitality.ttu.edu) and click on the “Dining Plan Rates” link to find out which plan best suits your needs and dining habits.

When do I pick a dining plan?

When you apply online for Texas Tech University Student Housing, you must also select a dining plan.

How do dining plans work?

Your dining plan is similar to a debit card. Instead of managing a dollar balance, you use Dining Bucks to buy food items at any Hospitality Services location on campus. Each time you purchase food, you’re using Dining Bucks deducted from your balance. Dining Bucks are split evenly between the fall (50%) and spring (50%) semesters* to help you conveniently manage your dining plan. You can add Dining Bucks if you run out (refer to the Dining Plans Flow Chart).

*DBs are billed 60% in the fall and 40% in the spring as part of the Housing contract.

Where is my dining plan?

Your dining plan is on your University ID card.

Where can I use my dining plan?

You can use your Dining Bucks at any Hospitality Services location on campus.

Where’s my dining plan balance?

When you make a purchase at any Hospitality Services location, the balance will pop-up on the register. You can also access your balance online with your eRaider info at www.raidercard.ttu.edu under the “Manage My Account” tab.

How much do dining plans cost?

Three dining plans at varying costs are available to meet your needs. The cost of a dining plan includes an operations cost plus applicable tax to cover all overhead expenses.* This allows us to keep the facilities clean and updated, as well as bring new and unique dining options to campus. Plus, we return this cost to you at the register through discounts up to 50% off your meal (refer to the Dining Plans Flow Chart).
