Texas Tech University
Department of Kinesiology and Sport Management
Tenure-Track Faculty Position in Sport Management
Beginning in Fall Semester of 2016

Texas Tech University is searching for an assistant professor with teaching and research expertise in international sport management, leadership and management in sport, organizational behavior in sport, personnel management in sport, social issues in sport, sport communication, sport ethics, sport facilities and event management, sport finance and economics, sport law, or sport marketing.

QUALIFICATIONS
❖ An earned doctorate in sport management or related area
❖ Demonstrated expertise and a research focus in at least one area of sport management
❖ Interest in pursuing and experience seeking external funding
❖ Demonstrated ability to publish in high-quality, peer-reviewed journals
❖ Experience teaching undergraduate courses preferred

RESPONSIBILITIES
❖ Conduct research and publish in high-quality, peer-reviewed journals
❖ Obtain external funding
❖ Teach undergraduate and graduate courses in at least three sub-disciplines of sport management
❖ Advise graduate students and mentor undergraduate and graduate students
❖ Provide service to the department, college, university, community, and professional organizations

RANK AND SALARY: Searches are open to assistant professors, with the salary commensurate with qualifications. All qualified applicants are encouraged to apply and will be considered.

EFFECTIVE DATE OF APPOINTMENT: 9-month, tenure-track appointment will be effective August 24, 2016.

THE DEPARTMENT AND THE UNIVERSITY: The department offers a B.S. in Sport Management and a M.S. in Sport Management. The department is in the process of seeking approval to offer a Ph.D. with new faculty having the opportunity to contribute to the development of this potential degree. The department is one of the largest departments at Texas Tech University including over 300 undergraduate majors in sport management and 30 graduate students in the master’s degree in addition to approximately 1200 undergraduate and 50 graduate students earning degrees in kinesiology. Texas Tech University enrolls over 35,000 students and is located in Lubbock, Texas, a center of cultural, commercial, medical, and professional services. Texas Tech University is actively pursuing strategic initiatives that will enhance its stature as a national research university. Successful candidates would be expected to contribute to this effort by virtue of their scholarly research and external funding. For further information see the department’s and university’s websites at www.depts.ttu.edu/hess and www.ttu.edu respectively.

APPLICATION PROCEDURES: Screening of applicants will begin October 1, 2015, and continue until the position is filled. Applications must be submitted online at: http://goo.gl/0XL0cz and include a cover letter and curriculum vitae. Refer to requisition number 4396BR when applying. A list of three references with current contact information must be sent via email to angela.lumpkin@ttu.edu

For additional information regarding this position contact:
Angela Lumpkin, Professor and Department Chair
Department of Kinesiology and Sport Management
Texas Tech University
Box 43011
Lubbock, TX 79409-3011
As an Equal Employment Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer, Texas Tech University is dedicated to the goal of building a culturally diverse faculty committed to teaching and working in a multicultural environment. We actively encourage applications from all those who can contribute, through their research, teaching, and/or service, to the diversity and excellence of the academic community at Texas Tech University. The university welcomes applications from minorities, women, protected veterans, persons with disabilities, and dual-career couples.