"Our mission is to honorably serve in the pursuit of excellence to enhance the quality of life through innovative teaching, reasearch, and public service."
— Meat Science Program

The Meat Science Association began catering in 1981 to help raise funds for judging team travel and student scholarships. Today, the students and staff in the Department of Animal and Food Sciences are proud to serve their customers high-quality, flavorful products, many of which are produced and developed in state-of-the-art facilities here on campus. All profits from caterings are used to support undergraduate students on judging teams and graduate student reasearch at Texas Tech University.

Specialized packages for conferences or all-day meetings are available. Ask about flower arrangements, linens, decorating prices and group discounts. $10 on-campus catering fee, $20 off-campus catering fee.
