

TEXAS TECH UNIVERSITY
J.T. & Margaret Talkington College of Visual & Performing Arts
School of Music™

Performance Events (Fall 2017)

Sunday, September 17, 2017

University Symphony Orchestra Concert: “Love Rising”

7:30 P.M. – Hemmle Recital Hall

featuring guest flute soloist Carol Wincenc

conducted by Dr. Philip Mann

This first performance of the academic year also marks the conducting debut with the University Symphony Orchestra of Dr. Philip Mann, our new Director of Orchestral Studies. On this program, love in the face of nefarious wizardry ties together the stories that bookend an exciting new world premiere. The orchestra will take off at lightning speed with the overture to Mikhail Glinka’s opera Ruslan and Lyudmila, which tells the tale of an evil sorcerer kidnapping Prince Vladimir’s daughter Lyudmila and her rescue at the hands of a knight named Ruslan. Superstar flute soloist Carol Wincenc – dubbed “queen of the flute” by New York Magazine – will collaborate with the orchestra during her residency at TTU to premiere a new orchestration of a work titled Rising. Written by prominent American composer Joan Tower, it was originally scored for string quartet and flute with Wincenc as its dedicatee. With a title that suggestive of flight, Rising is appropriately followed by recognizable selections from Tchaikovsky’s timeless ballet Swan Lake to close a concert that delights in unparalleled heights.

Monday, September 18, 2017

Tuba-Euphonium Studio Recital — students of Dr. Kevin Wass

7:00 P.M. – Talkington Hall at The Legacy Event Center

Join the low brass students of Dr. Kevin Wass as they perform music for solo euphonium and tuba with accompaniment provided by TTU collaborative pianist Susan Wass. This recital will be featuring students who will be performing a degree recital later in the semester, in addition to students who will plan on competing in the Music Teachers National Association's Young Artist Performance Competition.

Monday, September 18, 2017

Clarinet Studio Recital — students of Dr. David Shea

8:00 P.M. – Hemmle Recital Hall

Thursday, September 21, 2017

Concert Band & Symphonic Band Concert

7:30 P.M. – Hemmle Recital Hall

conducted respectively by Professor Duane Hill and Dr. Eric Allen

Extremes of character will be explored from the inspiration of western European dance to the social tension in the United States during the 1950's during this program presented dually by the Concert Band and the Symphonic Band. Leading off with Yo Goto's rhapsody based on the recognizable Neapolitan song "Funiculi Funicula," the Concert Band will set a tone of folk-tinged merriment for its half of the performance. Drawing upon elements of Irish dance and song, Brant Karrick's J.S. Jig adapts melodies by Johann Sebastian Bach to the distinctive rhythms of Irish jigs, while Steve Danyew's Adagietto channels ideas from Percy Grainger's free-flowing Irish Tune from County Derry. A Grainger composition will close the Concert Band's set: his wind band adaptation of an English Morris dance tune called Shepherd's Hey. John Zdechlik's virtuosic band showpiece Celebrations is an ideal transition into the Symphonic Band's more emotionally serious half of the program. Following the skittering, nervous acrobatics of Celebrations will be celebrated bandmaster Alfred Reed's organ-like arrangement of J.S. Bach's grief-stricken sacred air titled My Jesus, Oh What Anguish. Closing the performance will be the contemporarily relevant A Movement for Rosa, Mark Camphouse's musical tribute to United States civil rights heroine and advocate Rosa Parks.

Sunday, September 24, 2017

Guest Artist Recital — "A Touch of Blue: Works for Voice, Saxophone, and Piano"

4:00 P.M. – Hemmle Recital Hall

For this uniquely programmed performance, New Mexico State University faculty mezzo-soprano Dr. Sarah Daughtrey will collaborate with Elizabethtown College faculty pianist Dr. Justin Badgerow and Lubbock-based saxophonist David Box to present an afternoon of works that are primarily inspired by dances and song styles from North America, Central America, and South America. From Darius Milhaud's sparkling Scaramouche to Joaquín Nin-Culmell's sultry Two Popular Cuban Songs, the colors of the saxophone, piano, and voice will join forces in all of their possible combinations. Among the works that will feature all three guest musicians together is the song cycle Blue Diminuendo, which will be receiving its world premiere during this concert after having been recently composed by NMSU Music department head Dr. Lon Chaffin.

Monday, September 25, 2017

Celtic Ensemble Concert: “Dance of the North Wind”

8:00 P.M. – Hemmle Recital Hall

conducted by Dr. Christopher J. Smith

Along with the traditional songs of Ireland, Wales, Sweden, France, Norway, and Scotland, the Celtic Ensemble (in their guise as the Elegant Savages Orchestra) will share the cluster of music and dance styles known in contemporary Western Europe as “BalFolk” (literally, “folk-dance”). BalFolk is a modern phenomenon, part of a new wave of European “revivals” which has transformed expectations about who plays which regional folk styles and what that playing means. At the center of the revival is the dynamic interplay between musicians and dancers, and the emotional community created by the dancing.

Tuesday, September 26, 2017

Goin’ Band LISD Band Extravaganza

7:00 P.M. – Lowrey Field

Wednesday, September 27, 2017

David Dees Faculty Saxophone Chamber Recital

8:00 P.M. – Hemmle Recital Hall

TTU saxophone professor David Dees will collaborate with students and with faculty colleagues to present a chamber recital that demonstrates the saxophone’s ultimate flexibility as an ensemble instrument. Two essential sonatas of the concert saxophonist’s repertoire will form the backbone of the evening: Paul Creston’s Op. 19 Sonata and William Albright’s daredevil late-twentieth-century Sonata. The formidable pianistic demands made by both works will be met head-on by the equally formidable skill of collaborative pianist Nataliya Sukhina. A point of repose in the center of the program will be a sacred Renaissance vocal work by renowned Franco-Flemish composer Johannes Ockeghem. Featuring three saxophone studio graduate students, the serenely flowing Alma Redemptoris Mater was adapted for saxophone quartet by TTU saxophone studio alumnus Ben Robinette. Finally, strings and brass will also contribute to the depth of color achieved on the program. Trumpet professor Andrew Stetson will join Professor Dees for Jean Rivier’s Concerto for Saxophone and Trumpet, and viola professor Kimberly Sparr will perform in a recently composed unaccompanied duo titled Kugelblitz.

Friday, September 29, 2017

Kaleidoscope of Choirs Concert: “Together We Sing”

7:30 P.M. – Hemmle Recital Hall

University Singers conducted by graduate assistants Minji Kim and Justin Nelson

Matador Singers conducted by graduate assistants Jonathon Barranco and Justin Nelson

Women’s Chorale conducted by Dr. Carolyn Cruse and graduate assistant Ryan Person

University Choir conducted by Dr. Alan Zabriskie, and graduate assistants Minji Kim and Ryan Person

Revel in all the colors of the voice during TTU Family Weekend as all four choirs of the School of Music offer a concert showcasing the diversity of voice types, characters, and styles that lend themselves so well to choral music. The University Singers, Matador Singers, Women’s Chorale, and University Choir will all perform throughout the course of the evening, with two selections for the combined choirs that will begin and end the concert. From twelfth-century chant to contemporary Scottish poetry to Zulu and Ndebele folk songs from South Africa and Zimbabwe, the variety of programming will give the audience an opportunity to travel the world in jubilant song. Finally, this performance will be the Texas Tech debut of Dr. Alan Zabriskie as our new Director of Choral Studies and conductor of the University Choir!

Sunday, October 1, 2017

Christopher Van Hof Guest Artist Trombone Master Class & Mini-Recital

2:00 P.M. – Talkington Hall at The Legacy Event Center

Dr. Christopher Van Hof is the assistant professor of trombone at Colorado State University (CSU) in Fort Collins, CO. Leading an active and varied career as a performer on the trombone and euphonium, Dr. Van Hof is also a teacher and clinician in brass, chamber music, and jazz; and is a writer and arranger of music for ensembles from trombone choir to jazz band to symphony orchestra. He founded the CSU Trombone Octet, co-founded Neue Polka Colorado (a German-style all-brass “pop polka” band), and founded the CSU Trombone Choir, which enjoyed their world debut at the 2014 Big 12 Trombone Conference at TTU. He has recorded two albums with the Po Boys Brass Band that feature many of his original compositions, and also co-founded the Emerald Brass Quintet. For three years he was the afternoon drive-time host of the classical music radio station WXXI 91.5 in Rochester, NY and has served as an associate producer on several recordings by woodwind and brass artists.

Sunday, October 1, 2017

Kevin Wass Faculty Tuba Recital

4:00 P.M. – Hemmle Recital Hall

Monday, October 2, 2017

Jazz Ensembles I & II Concert

7:30 P.M. – Hemmle Recital Hall

directed respectively by Professor Stephen Jones and Dr. Ben Haugland

Swing it up during this combined showcase concert featuring the jazz performers of the School of Music. The big bands and small combos will play a toe-tapping mix of recognizable standards and more recently-composed charts, with solo turns for many of the instrumentalists throughout the show.

Monday, October 2, 2017

Soo Hong Kim and Jing Ling-Tam Guest Artist Soprano & Piano Recital

8:00 P.M. – Talkington Hall at The Legacy Event Center

Soo Hong Kim and Jing Ling-Tam are both voice faculty at the University of Texas at Arlington (UTA). Dr. Kim is a lyric soprano who was recently appointed as the vocal division coordinator at UTA, and Professor Ling-Tam is the Director of Choral Studies at UTA. With several competitive accolades and recognition – including the Mary Wolfman Award from the National Association of Teachers of Singing – Dr. Kim's artistic caliber has won her major roles in professional opera companies such as Dallas Lyric Opera and Shreveport Opera. Professor Ling-Tam brings formidable pianistic and conducting resources to her collaboration with Dr. Kim, including having served as Associate Conductor, Chorus Master, and Principal Coach Pianist for the Ft. Worth Opera Association and as faculty at the American Institute of Musical Studies in Graz, Austria.

Tuesday, October 3, 2017

Symphonic Wind Ensemble Concert

7:30 P.M. – Hemmle Recital Hall

conducted by Dr. Sarah McKoin

Thursday, October 5, 2017

David Shea Faculty Clarinet Recital

8:00 P.M. – Hemmle Recital Hall

Friday, October 6 to Saturday, October 7, 2017

American Musicological Society Southwest Chapter Conference

Saturday, October 7, 2017

American Musicological Society Southwest Chapter Conference Performance

8:00 P.M. – Hemmle Recital Hall

Sunday, October 8, 2017

Jeremy Lewis Guest Artist Tuba Recital

4:00 P.M. – Hemmle Recital Hall

An alumnus of the TTU tuba studio, Dr. Jeremy Lewis is the Instructor of Tuba and Euphonium at West Texas A&M University in Canyon. He is the tubist in the WT Faculty Brass Quintet, leads the WTAMU Tuba-Euphonium Ensemble, and is the principal tubist with the Amarillo Symphony Orchestra. As a competitor he placed second in the 2006 International Women's Brass Conference Tuba Competition and was also a semifinalist in the 2004 Leonard Falcone International Euphonium and Tuba Festival and the 2004 ITEC Artist Tuba Competition.

Monday, October 9, 2017

Balkan Ensemble Concert

8:00 P.M. – Hemmle Recital Hall

directed by Professor Roger Landes

Join students of Professor Roger Landes as they perform an adventurous set of tunes and songs that encompass musical styles from the Balkans, including the countries of Bulgaria, Greece, Macedonia, Romania, and Turkey. Original compositions and student improvisations will come to the fore as the performers showcase their exploration of these harmonically and rhythmically demanding traditions. Additionally, the students in this Vernacular Music Center ensemble have arranged all of the selections for the concert.

Tuesday, October 10, 2017

University Symphony Orchestra Showcase Concert:

“Young Artists of the Future”

7:30 P.M. – Hemmle Recital Hall

conducted by Dr. Philip Mann

Celebrate up-and-coming virtuoso performers from the School of Music as the finalists of last year's student concerto competition dazzle with their winning solo selections in the spotlight with the Symphony Orchestra. The future of concert performance definitely looks bright if these young artists have anything to say about it!

Thursday, October 12, 2017

Trumpet Studio Recital — students of Dr. Andrew Stetson

8:00 P.M. – Hemmle Recital Hall

Friday, October 13, 2017

The Lubbock Chorale & University Choir with the Lubbock Symphony:

Beethoven's Symphony No. 9

7:30 P.M. – Lubbock Memorial Civic Center Theatre

Tickets available via the Lubbock Symphony Orchestra web site at www.lubbocksymphony.org

Also known as "the Choral Symphony," Ludwig van Beethoven's ninth symphony was also the last symphony that he composed. One of the most frequently performed symphonies in the world, it is almost universally considered by critics to be one of Beethoven's greatest works, with many considering it one of the greatest compositions in the western musical canon. This work was the first example of a major composer using voices in a symphony, thus making it a choral symphony. The words from Friedrich Schiller's poem "Ode to Joy" are sung during the final movement by four vocal soloists – including School of Music faculty Rebecca Wascoe Hays and Karl Dent – and a sizeable chorus that includes many School of Music students.

Saturday, October 14, 2017

The Lubbock Chorale & University Choir with the Lubbock Symphony:

Beethoven's Symphony No. 9

7:30 P.M. – Lubbock Memorial Civic Center Theatre

Tickets available via the Lubbock Symphony Orchestra web site at www.lubbocksymphony.org

Sunday, October 15, 2017

Andrew Stetson Faculty Trumpet Recital

4:00 P.M. – Hemmle Recital Hall

Monday, October 16, 2017

Tuba-Euphonium Studio Recital — students of Dr. Kevin Wass

8:00 P.M. – Hemmle Recital Hall

Friday, October 20, 2017

Goin' Band at Homecoming Parade & Pep Rally

Sunday, October 22, 2017

Matador Singers & University Singers Fall Concert

3:00 P.M. – Hemmle Recital Hall

University Singers conducted by graduate assistants Minji Kim and Justin Nelson

Matador Singers conducted by graduate assistants Jonathon Barranco and Justin Nelson

Sunday, October 22, 2017

Trombone Studio Recital — students of Professor James T. Decker
5:00 P.M. – Choir Hall (Room 010)

Monday, October 23, 2017

Saxophone Studio Chamber Recital — students of Professor David Dees
8:00 P.M. – Hemmle Recital Hall

Tuesday, October 24, 2017

Concert Band Side-by-Side Concert
7:30 P.M. – Hemmle Recital Hall
conducted by Professor Duane Hill

Wednesday, October 25, 2017

Saxophone Studio Solo Recital — students of Professor David Dees
6:00 P.M. – Talkington Hall at The Legacy Event Center

Thursday, October 26, 2017

Clarinet Studio Recital — students of Dr. David Shea
7:30 P.M. – Talkington Hall at The Legacy Event Center

Thursday, October 26, 2017

Octubafest Concert — students of Dr. Kevin Wass
8:00 P.M. – Hemmle Recital Hall
conducted by Dr. Kevin Wass

It's a long way from Lubbock to the Wiesn, but you can still regale in the anthems of the famous German Oktoberfest as Dr. Kevin Wass directs his tuba and euphonium students in performances of appropriately seasonal music. Special selections will help ring in the days prior to Halloween, and there will (of course) be lots and lots of polkas. Ein prosit!

Saturday, October 28, 2017

Jason Bonham & Kimberly Sparr Guest Artist & Faculty Viola Recital
2:00 P.M. – Hemmle Recital Hall

Saturday, October 28, 2017

University Choir & Women's Chorale Concert
7:30 P.M. – Hemmle Recital Hall
Women's Chorale conducted by Dr. Carolyn Cruse and graduate assistant Ryan Person
University Choir conducted by Dr. Alan Zabriskie, and graduate assistants Minji Kim and Ryan Person

Sunday, October 29, 2017

James T. Decker Faculty Trombone Recital

2:00 P.M. – Talkington Hall at The Legacy Event Center

Sunday, October 29, 2017

Viola Studio Recital (students of Dr. Kimberly Sparr)

2:00 P.M. – Hemmle Recital Hall

Sunday, October 29, 2017

University Symphony Orchestra Halloween “Hauntcert”

7:00 P.M. – Hemmle Recital Hall

conducted by Dr. Philip Mann

All manner of spookiness awaits as the University Symphony Orchestra offers their annual family Halloween extravaganza! Special guests and surprises will all join the orchestra in a performance that will provide plenty of new tricks and festive treats. Show up an hour early to join in the fun of the costume contest for a chance to guest-conduct the orchestra. Receive a hands-on opportunity to get to know the instruments of the orchestra in the popular “Instrument Petting Zoo,” where all can listen to, touch, and even play everything that will be on stage for the concert. To get the spirit of the evening started, the young musicians of the TTU String Project will also give a special performance prior to the concert.

Monday, October 30, 2017

Symphonic Band Concert

7:30 P.M. – Hemmle Recital Hall

conducted by Dr. Eric Allen

Friday, November 3, 2017

Christopher Koch Guest Artist Recorder Recital: “Rarely Heard Music for Flute and Recorder”

6:00 P.M. – Hemmle Recital Hall

Although the transverse flute and the recorder coexisted in music history, they were rarely cast together by major composers in the same composition. Visiting flute professor Susanna Self and nationally recognized recorder artist Dr. Christopher Koch are proud to present Telemann’s Concerto for Flute and Recorder and Quantz’s Trio Sonata, which are two of the only canonically recognized works for these instruments in combination. These woodwind features will be complemented by a performance of one of Johann Sebastian Bach’s time-honored Suites for Solo Cello from the recently published edition of the six Suites by TTU cello professor Jeffrey Lastrapes. From unaccompanied cello to dancing wind virtuosity to inspired continuo playing from collaborative keyboardist Becca Zeisler, this program aspires to provide a fresh listening experience for these older works.

Friday, November 3, 2017

Fall Opera: Gilbert and Sullivan's The Mikado

7:30 P.M. – Allen Theatre in the Student Union Building

Tickets will be available via the School of Music's Eventbrite page

W.S. Gilbert and Sir Arthur Sullivan's The Mikado was the ninth of their fourteen collaborations. Set in the fictional town of Titipu, the son of the Mikado of Japan, Nanki-Poo, disguises himself as a traveling musician to escape an arranged marriage, and falls in love with a local girl, Yum-Yum. This hilarious operetta is one of Gilbert and Sullivan's all-time masterpieces.

Sunday, November 5, 2017

Fall Opera: Gilbert and Sullivan's The Mikado

2:00 P.M. – Allen Theatre in the Student Union Building

Tickets will be available via the School of Music's Eventbrite page

Monday, November 6, 2017

Jazz Ensemble I Concert

7:30 P.M. – Hemmle Recital Hall

directed by Professor Stephen Jones

Tuesday, November 7, 2017

Composers' Forum Concert

8:00 P.M. – Hemmle Recital Hall

Get to know the new face of musical composition at this concert that will exclusively feature new and original works by student composers from the School of Music's composition studios. For many of these young artists, this performance will constitute the world premiere of their fresh selections.

Thursday, November 9, 2017

Trombone Ensembles Concert — students of Professor James T. Decker

8:00 P.M. – Hemmle Recital Hall

conducted by Professor James T. Decker

Sunday, November 12, 2017

Madeleine Mitchell Guest Artist Violin Recital

2:00 P.M. – Hemmle Recital Hall

As a Professor at the Royal College of Music, Madeleine Mitchell is in an apt position to support and herald music written by British composers. Her recent engagements have taken her on tour to India and the Middle East, to China to judge the Western International Strings Competition, and now to Lubbock to present a program spanning a century's worth of British music. She will collaborate with TTU faculty violinist John Gilbert to present Atlantic Drift, a recently composed work for two violins written by Judith Weir, Master of the Queen's Music. The rest of the exclusively British program will feature compositions by Rebecca Clarke, Sir Edward Elgar, Frank Bridge, John Ireland, and Herbert Howells.

Sunday, November 12, 2017

Graduate Brass Quintet Recital

4:00 P.M. – Hemmle Recital Hall

Monday, November 13, 2017

Tuba-Euphonium Studio Recital — students of Dr. Kevin Wass

7:00 P.M. – Choir Hall (Room 010)

Monday, November 13, 2017

Clarinet Studio Recital — students of Dr. David Shea

7:30 P.M. – Talkington Hall at The Legacy Event Center

Tuesday, November 14, 2017

Percussion Ensembles & Steel Bands Concert — students of Dr. Lisa Rogers and Professor Alan Shinn

7:30 P.M. – Hemmle Recital Hall

conducted by Dr. Lisa Rogers and Professor Alan Shinn

Wednesday, November 15, 2017

Flute Concerto Night — students of Dr. Lisa Garner Santa

4:30 P.M. – Talkington Hall at The Legacy Event Center

Join the flute studio of Dr. Lisa Garner Santa for their annual concerto event hosted in the beautiful acoustic space of the Talkington Hall at the Legacy Event Center. Several of the performing students' selections will be their entries to the concerto competition at the School of Music for the opportunity to perform as a featured soloist in concert with the University Symphony Orchestra.

Thursday, November 16, 2017

Jazz Ensemble II Concert

7:30 P.M. – Hemmle Recital Hall

directed by Dr. Ben Haugland

Friday, November 17, 2017

Joint Concert: Mariachi Los Matadores and the TTU Tango Orchestra

8:00 P.M. – Hemmle Recital Hall

The vibrant energy of Mexican mariachi and the sultry colors of Argentinian tango will share the stage during this performance of traditional music. Thanks to Dr. Lauryn Salazar's and Charles Olivier's outreach efforts in the Lubbock community, Lubbock High School's Mariachi de Oro and the LISD Tango Orchestra will also be featured on the program.

Sunday, November 19, 2017

Viento Sur Guest Trombone Quartet Recital

3:00 P.M. – Talkington Hall at The Legacy Event Center

5 years after their Lubbock debut at the ninth annual Big 12 Trombone Conference, the Argentinian foursome called Viento Sur returns to deliver their special blend of trombone quartet repertoire and the traditional tangos and milongas of their home country. As musical ambassadors of Argentina and of the trombone, their memorably powerful sound and energetic spirit has catapulted them into stardom as brass artists.

Sunday, November 19, 2017

Faculty Piano Recital – Dr. William Westney

4:00 P.M. – Hemmle Recital Hall

The solo recitals by TTU's Browning Artist-in-Residence William Westney are eagerly anticipated yearly events in Lubbock. This program features two mature sonatas by towering composers for the piano – Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart and Frédéric Chopin. Mozart's Sonata No. 17, K. 570 is pure, sunny, deceptively simple, and full of delightful musical witticisms. Chopin's colossal and elegant Sonata No. 3, Op. 58 takes the form in another direction, and offers sweeping, majestic passion. Rounding out the program are three colorful Preludes by Claude Debussy, and a sonorous arrangement of Johann Sebastian Bach's Prelude in G Minor, BWV 535 by Russian composer Alexander Siloti.

Sunday, November 19, 2017

University Symphony Orchestra Concert

7:30 P.M. – Hemmle Recital Hall

conducted by Dr. Philip Mann

Monday, November 20, 2017

Clarinet Choir & Ensembles Concert — students of Dr. David Shea

8:00 P.M. – Hemmle Recital Hall

conducted by Dr. David Shea

Tuesday, November 28, 2017

Concert Band Concert

7:30 P.M. – Hemmle Recital Hall

conducted by Professor Duane Hill

Friday, December 1, 2017

Carol Concert

8:00 P.M. – Hemmle Recital Hall

One of the most cherished events of the holiday calendar in Lubbock, this participatory concert invites audience members to sing timeless Yuletide carols with the School of Music's choirs and several instrumental guests. Walk over from the Carol of Lights to enjoy this festive performance, and don't forget to stick around after the concert to share hot cocoa and cookies with the student performers!

Sunday, December 3, 2017

University String Orchestra Concert

3:00 P.M. – Hemmle Recital Hall

Sunday, December 3, 2017

Trumpet Ensembles Concert — students of Dr. Andrew Stetson

8:00 P.M. – Hemmle Recital Hall

Monday, December 4, 2017

Symphonic Band Concert

7:30 P.M. – Hemmle Recital Hall

conducted by Dr. Eric Allen

Tuesday, December 5, 2017

Symphonic Wind Ensemble Concert

7:30 P.M. – Hemmle Recital Hall

conducted by Dr. Sarah McKoin

Wednesday, December 6, 2017

Trumpet Studio Recital — students of Dr. Andrew Stetson

8:00 P.M. – Hemmle Recital Hall

Friday, December 8, 2017

The Lubbock Chorale Christmas Concert – “Handel’s Messiah: A Community Singalong”

7:30 P.M. – Hemmle Recital Hall

conducted by Dr. John Hollins and graduate assistant David Warren

For this special outreach concert, the Chorale will perform Christmas and holiday repertoire, followed by a performance of Part I (Christmas/Nativity portion) of Handel's beloved masterpiece Messiah. The entire assembled audience will be invited to join the Chorale in singing all six choruses of Part I, closing with a seventh chorus (added from Part II): "The Hallelujah Chorus." The Lubbock Chorale has performed Handel's complete Messiah numerous times throughout its 42-year history, including twice with the Lubbock Symphony Orchestra in the past six years.

Sunday, December 10, 2017

TubaChristmas

3:00 P.M. – Helen DeVitt Jones Sculpture Court at the Museum of Texas Tech

directed by Dr. Kevin Wass

The worldwide musical phenomenon called TubaChristmas will be celebrated here in Lubbock to ring in the holiday spirit in low brass style! Hosted by the Tech Tuba-Euphonium Association and the Harvey Phillips Foundation, all kinds of carols specially arranged for low brass ensemble will be performed collaboratively by students and community members. There will even be easier arrangements for the younger students to enjoy playing with the grown-ups. Official TubaChristmas scarves and hats will be available for purchase, and the fun of the event will be capped by an Instrument Decorating Contest — don't forget the sleighbells and twinkling lights!

Saturday, December 16, 2017

The Seventeenth Annual Caprock Celtic Christmas

Time TBD – Maedgen Theatre of Texas Tech University

Directed by Dr. Christopher J. Smith