

Texas Tech University

Presents

The 8th Annual Philosophy Graduate
Student Conference

April 4th - 5th

Topic:
Epistemology

Location:
MCOM 67

Keynote:
Dr. John Greco
Saint Louis University

“John Greco holds the Leonard and Elizabeth Eslick Chair in Philosophy. He received his Ph.D. from Brown University in 1989 and his AB from Georgetown in 1983. His research interests are in epistemology and metaphysics and he has published widely on virtue epistemology, epistemic normativity, skepticism, and Thomas Reid. He is the Editor of American Philosophical Quarterly.” (Source: Saint Louis University’s Philosophy Department Website: <https://www.slu.edu/x34363.xml>)

Friday, April 4th

7pm – 8:30pm.....Dr. John Greco, TBA

Saturday, April 5th

10am – 11am.....Kelsie Nagele, Indiana University, Ignorance and Epistemic Virtue

11am – 12pm.....Theo Manahan, Boston College, Divided Reason in Aristotle’s Nicomachean Ethics

12pm – 2pm.....Break for lunch

2pm – 3pm.....Andrew Rogers, Kansas State University, Salvaging Pascal’s Wager

3pm – 4pmDan Grosz, The University of Oklahoma, Phenomenal Conservatism, Seemings, and Reliability

4pm – 5pmHannah Bondurant, Duke University, Ability as Achievement: Greco’s Account of Autonomy and Agency