

MEMORANDUM

To: Deans, Chairs & Directors, and Faculty
From: Michael Galyean, Provost and Senior Vice President
Date: December 4, 2017
Re: 2018 Integrated Scholars

I am pleased to announce nine faculty members as Integrated Scholars for 2018. An Integrated Scholar at Texas Tech University is a faculty member who demonstrates significant accomplishments and effective synergy among the major professorial functions of teaching, research, and service. Each of these faculty members has infused the results of their scholarship and creative activity into the learning experiences they provide to students, and their service and engagement activities. This year, 27 applications or nominations for Integrated Scholars were received, and because of the overall quality of the applications, it was not an easy task to narrow the field to this group of finalists.

Traditionally, each Integrated Scholar is profiled on the Provost website with both a textual narrative and a video. A profile on each of this year's Integrated Scholars will be published by late March or early April 2018. Previous Integrated Scholar profiles can be viewed at <http://www.depts.ttu.edu/provost/scholars/index.php>.

Please join me in congratulating this year's Integrated Scholars:

- Michael Borshuk, Department of English
 - Ali Duffy, School of Theatre and Dance
 - Idoia Elola, Department of Classical & Modern Languages & Literatures
 - Amy Heuman, Department of Communication Studies
 - Sandra Huston, Department of Personal Financial Planning
 - Angela Mariani, School of Music
 - Courtney Meyers, Department of Agricultural Education & Communications
 - Robert Peaslee, Department of Journalism and Electronic Media
- Beth Thacker, Department of Physics and Astronomy