What does a Support Coordinator Do?
1. Discuss reporting options, the Title IX investigation process, rights, responsibilities, and remedies
2. Help you assess your immediate safety & wellness needs
3. Accompany you to Title IX-related meetings (if requested)
4. Facilitate remedies such as
   - Academic support
   - On-campus housing relocation
   - Counseling referrals
   - Police escorts
5. Support you through your journey by staying in communication and offering on-going assistance
6. Keep basic records (no identifying information will ever be shared without your express consent)
   - Demographic info, requested remedies, services provided
   - Documented communications
   - Anonymous incident description for the Clery Report
7. Connect you with any additional resources, including Voice of Hope, Women’s Protective Services, and more

Who do Support Coordinators work with?
- RISE works with any reporting party
- ODOS works with any responding party
Support Coordinators serve all genders, identities, and sexual orientations.

Why does Tech have Support Coordinators?
- To support & empower survivors in the aftermath of trauma
- To inform you about reporting options, although the decision to investigate is solely yours
- To work to prevent sexual assault occurrences from happening again

What is Retaliation?
Retaliation can look like threats, bullying, or intimidation. If you feel like you are experiencing retaliation, talk to your Support Coordinator.
Retaliation against any party is against the Student Code of Conduct.

Who is a Support Coordinator?
RISE and Office of the Dean of Students staff trained to help students navigate Title IX-related concerns

Why do Support Coordinators work with?
- RISE works with any reporting party
- ODOS works with any responding party
Support Coordinators serve all genders, identities, and sexual orientations.

Who do Support Coordinators work with?
- RISE works with any reporting party
- ODOS works with any responding party
Support Coordinators serve all genders, identities, and sexual orientations.

What does a Support Coordinator NOT Do?
1. Make a formal report disclosing names and identifying information, unless you specifically request this action.
2. Accompany you to the hospital. (Though we can contact Voice of Hope for this service if requested.)
3. Participate in the investigation process in any role other than as a support person.

What is Retaliation?
Retaliation can look like threats, bullying, or intimidation. If you feel like you are experiencing retaliation, talk to your Support Coordinator.
Retaliation against any party is against the Student Code of Conduct.

RISE
Student Wellness Center 204
(806) 742-2110
Office of the Dean of Students
Student Union Building 201
(806) 742-2984