Wilson called the meeting to order at 3:35 p.m. and introduced guests, officers of the Senate, the Faculty Senate Office Secretary, and Vernon McGuire, who will serve as Parliamentarian for the year.

Wilson then announced the Rules of Procedure which she proposes to follow. These rules are:

1. A senator who has spoken on an issue will not be recognized again by the chair until all others wishing to speak on that issue have had an opportunity to be heard, unless there is a need for clarification or a point of personal privilege is raised.

2. Only one senator, having been recognized by the chair, shall speak at a time.

3. Senators wishing to speak for and against an item of business on the floor will be alternated until no one wishes to speak further either pro or con, at which time the alternation will cease.

4. A time limit may be placed on debate of specific items of business. Such a time limit may be altered by a majority vote of the Senate.

5. A senator recognized for the purpose of presenting a motion to the Senate should give his/her name before stating the motion.

Minutes of the May 10, 1978 Faculty Senate Meeting were approved as distributed.

Wilson noted two errors, one in the Minutes of the General Faculty Meeting of April 27th and the other in the "discussion draft" from the Office of Academic Affairs, which should be corrected. In the minutes of the General Faculty meeting of April 27,...the last sentence in paragraph 3 on page 2 should read "In the Appropriations Request for the next legislative session, approximately $900,000 is being requested to make modifications to accommodate handicapped persons on campus." In the "discussion draft" from the Office of Academic Affairs, Texas Tech University, Academic Workload - in the chart labeled Faculty Workload Summary - the load equivalents in the second section should read "portion of course semester credit hours per student enrollment."

The minutes of the General Faculty Meeting, April 27, 1978 were approved with the corrections.

Phelan, University Legal Counsel, was asked to consider involving faculty members in the hearing process in some manner and to allow the Faculty Senate to review the guidelines before they are implemented. III. REPORT ON FACULTY WORKLOAD -- Jacquelin Collins

The Coordinating Board Advisory Committee on Faculty Workload, of which Collins was a member, submitted its final report in July. The report consisted of two parts, one on policy for small classes and the other dealing with faculty workloads. The report on small classes, which set forth guidelines for governing boards to use in approving small classes, was accepted and approved by the Coordinating Board. However, the report on faculty workloads was substantially modified following lengthy debate. The policy adopted by the Coordinating Board requires that State colleges and universities report the activities of their faculty in three categories: 1) Instructional Activities, 2) Administrative Activities, and 3) Other Activities acceptable to the governing board of the institution, all to accumulate to a 9-hour minimum teaching load equivalent. Collins expressed concern at the limitation of activities to only three categories and the inclusion of research activities in the "Other Activities" category, which in his opinion, could lead to misunderstanding when such reports reach the Coordinating Board and, ultimately, the State Legislature. He suggested that it would be the responsibility of each university administration to ensure not only that accurate information is provided in the reports, but that it is presented in such a way as to avoid creating false or confusing impressions of how faculty members spend their time.

IV. REPORT ON INVOCATIONS -- Thomas McLaughlin

At its May 10, 1978 meeting the Faculty Senate moved to forward to President Mackey a recommendation that the report of the ad hoc Invocations Committee to discontinue invocations at Texas Tech University home football games be implemented. Following the August 4 Board of Regents meeting the President of the Faculty Senate reminded Dr. Mackey that no action had been taken on this matter and requested an explanation, as stipulated in the Faculty Senate Constitution. Dr. Mackey responded in a letter which stated that the Senate recommendation had been forwarded to the chairperson of the Board of Regents. The Chairperson of the Board, failing "to sense within the Board a need or sentiment to change the present policy," did not place the matter on the Board agenda.

Following this brief review of the situation, McLaughlin introduced Robert Davidow, who served on the ad hoc Committee. Davidow reported that the Committee had carried out its investigation and made its recommendation on the assumption that prayer at football games was a "practice" which had become established over time. Inquiries subsequent to the drafting of the Committee's report, however, were answered by reference to a policy stated in Section I, 4.7 of the Operating Systems and Procedures Manual of the university, which reads: "At all Red Raider football games in Jones Stadium Complex there will be an audible prayer before the beginning of each game over the loudspeaker system. A part of the prayer period can be silent if so desired, but there should be a short prayer given after a moment of silence."

Davidow stated his opinion that, had the Committee known of the existence of such a policy, its report would have been different. He also indicated doubt as to the constitutionality of the policy.

Following discussion, George moved that the ad hoc Invocations Committee be directed to re-study the matter of prayer at home football games in light of the new information which has become available and report back to the Faculty Senate at its next meeting.

Newcomb then moved that, following the report of the Invocations Committee at the next meeting of the Faculty Senate (October 11, 1978), Article 4, Section 4 of the Faculty Senate Constitution be invoked. This item reads: "Should the President of the University choose not to follow a recommendation of the Faculty Senate, the President shall inform the Senate in writing of the reasons therefore and, upon request of the Senate, the President shall meet with the Senate for discussion of the matter." The motion carried.

V. FACULTY EMPLOYMENT CONTRACTS

The Faculty Senate President introduced this agenda item by calling attention to differences in two proposed bills that deal with the elimination of tenure which may come before the Texas Legislature. She suggested that the Senators study these two documents carefully and be prepared to respond in January when the State Legislature convenes.

Mogan moved that the Faculty Senate request the Committee on Committees to appoint a five member ad hoc committee to study the two proposals and prepare an appropriate response. Included in the motion was the stipulation that one member of this ad hoc committee be from Political Science, one from the School of Law, and that Jacquelin Collins, and two others of comparable interest and competence should be named to serve on the committee. The motion carried with no opposition.

VI. EQUUS RESOLUTION - Ben Newcomb and Leon Higdon

Newcomb moved the following resolution:

RESOLUTION

WHEREAS, faculty and students greatly benefit from intellectual stimulation on a campus open to all forms of academic and artistic expression;

WHEREAS, the cancellation of the production of two plays, reportedly at the suggestion of the administrative officers, may be an infringement of necessary academic freedom;

RESOLVED THAT: the Faculty Senate shall establish an ad hoc committee to investigate and report on the cancellation of the plays.

RESOLVED THAT: the members of this committee, when nominated by the Committee on Committees, shall be deemed appointed by the Senate.

RESOLVED THAT: this committee may cooperate with any committee of any campus organization in gathering information, but shall report independently of any other committee, and shall not necessarily be bound by the findings or conclusions of any other committee or organization.

RESOLVED THAT: this committee shall report its progress and findings at ensuing regular meetings of the Faculty Senate.

After a lengthy discussion, Vines moved the question; this motion carried by a vote of 25-12. The Newcomb-Higdon Resolution carried by a vote of 23-19.

VII. REVISED DROP-ADD COMPUTER SHEETS

The Admissions and Records Office requested an opinion from the Faculty Senate on the revised drop-add sheets. That office asked two questions: 1) How often does the faculty want to receive drop-add sheets, and 2) Should the printout sheets be sent directly to the faculty members or to the department chairpersons?

Discussion disclosed faculty opinions that the present method of conveying drop-add information to them is not satisfactory. Information is received too late (sometimes following the deadline for grades to be in the Registrar's Office) and there are many errors on the printout sheets.

V. Luchsinger moved that the Faculty Senate advise the Admissions and Records Office to inform faculty of the status of drop-add students in their classes twice, once at the mid-point of the semester and again within one week after the last drop date. The motion carried.

Oberhelman moved that the Faculty Senate request Admissions and Records to send printout sheets directly to faculty members with a copy to the department chairpersons. The motion carried. Wilson will forward this information to D. N. Peterson, Director of Admissions and Records and also inform him of the dissatisfaction expressed by members of the Senate with the present system.

Lee moved to ask Mr. Peterson to attend the October meeting of the Faculty Senate to explain the operation of his office and discuss the problems raised in the Senate. The motion failed.

VIII. OTHER BUSINESS

Helen Brittin, Chairperson of the Committee on Committees, reported the resignation of David Draper from the Election Committee and moved the appointment of Alexis Tan, Mass Communications, to the Election Committee with Michael Angelotti, Education, as an alternate. The motion carried.

Brittin reported further that a memorandum from Robert Ewalt, Vice President for Student Affairs, has established the former ad hoc Bookstore Advisory Committee as a permanent University Committee. The faculty members of that committee are: Gary Elbow, Geography; Derald Walling, Mathematics; Ronald C. Smith, Plant & Soil Sciences; and Ann Burbridge, Law. Brittin moved the appointment of these ad hoc members to serve as members of the permanent University Committee. The motion carried.

Brittin moved that an ad hoc committee consisting of David Cummins, School of Law; George Tereshkovitch, Plant & Soil Sciences; and Roland E. Smith, Political Science; be appointed to study the Academic Excellence Fund and to consider the method of appointment of its Board of Trustees. The motion carried.

Jim Eissinger, the liaison person with the Tenure and Privilege Committee for the 1977-78 year, summarized this committee's annual report. This report was not available to the Committee on Committees last spring when other annual reports were reviewed. Eissinger stated that the Tenure and Privilege Committee did outstanding work last year and should be commended for its work. The Committee chairperson reported that the Committee encountered some problems in carrying out its work, three of which Eissinger considered serious enough for discussion. Specific areas of concern are: 1) The lack of a satisfactory definition of "academic freedom" which would make clear what the term encompasses, 2) disallowance of some responsibilities stated in the charge issued to the Committee, and 3) limitations on the accessibility of information deemed relevant by the Committee.

Newcomb moved that the President of the Faculty Senate be instructed to write to the Vice President for Academic Affairs expressing the Senate's concern over the difficulties reported by the Tenure and Privilege Committee. The motion carried.

The meeting adjourned at 5:27 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,

Gary E. Elbow, Secretary
Faculty Senate
