V. Speaker: Dr. Alice Young, VPR on OP 70.37 update.
NIH is requiring all researchers associated with NIH grants to be in compliance with the NIH Disclosure of Significant Business of Financial Interests that may Represent Conflicts of Interest. There are two existing models:

1. All university faculty must comply with NIH standards.
2. Only faculty associated with NIH must comply

President Nathan assigned the issue to the Research Committee.

VI. Reports from University Councils/Committees & Liaisons

Faculty Senator Aliza Wong, Faculty Senate Research Committee:

OP 70.37: Disclosure of Significant Business of Financial Interests that may Represent Conflicts of Interest:

The committee finds the proposed change to the OP (requiring those faculty members who are applying or are holding NIH grants to fill out additional information and disclosure statements) to be the most effective and most amenable way of handling the major changes instituted by the NIH. The committee looks forward to seeing the amended OP and will vote on the changes to the OP once they have seen a working draft.

On the issue of Digital Measures Reporting for Responsible Conduct of Research Safety Education:

The committee commends the working group for allowing individual professors to report extraordinary and superior work in ensuring safe lab and work conditions for students, faculty, and staff. The committee does not have any objections to this reporting, especially if the process is clear, precise, and streamlined so as not to overburden already heavily taxed faculty.

However, the committee would like the working group to clarify and further discuss the following issues:

1. Departments need to be clear and precise about the standard of safety expectations on faculty members.

2. Should all departments who have labs, machinery, etc. that require safety procedures have a standing safety committee that continues to discuss changes in protocol, training, emergency procedures, etc.?

3. What are the rewards or repercussions in this reporting in Digital Measures?

VII. Old Business

“Section 10. Methods of Communication

If a vote of the Faculty Senate is urgently required for an important matter which, in the opinion of the Faculty Senate President, cannot wait until the next scheduled meeting of the senate, then the Faculty Senate President may, with the approval of the Agenda Committee, poll the Faculty Senate by electronic mail (e-mail), including scanned documents or facsimile attachments relevant to the issue in question. Such a vote shall only be taken after the Faculty Senate President provides to all Faculty Senators (1) an explicit justification for the need for such an action, (2) pros and cons of the issue at stake, and (3) an opportunity for e-mail deliberations among Faculty Senators for at least one week prior to the official vote.” The resulting vote will be made public by posting the final tally on the Faculty Senate webpage.
