Texas Tech University New Faculty Checklist

This checklist is intended to assist you in your transition to a teaching position at Texas Tech University. While the list is not exhaustive, it will help you acclimate to your new role. Information on department, school, or college-specific requirements should be available through your supervisor, department head, and/or office manager.

Complete Your Hiring Paperwork & Attend Orientations

Texas Tech University has a central Human Resources office (https://www.depts.ttu.edu/hr/) that is a great resource for all employees. Both Human Resources and your hiring department play an important role in supporting Texas Tech University (TTU) employees.

Texas Tech University’s Human Resource Department has many mechanisms in place to help you. Please access the following link to find about more about the HR process for New TTU Employees: https://www.depts.ttu.edu/hr/EmployeeResources/NewEmp.php

Be sure to complete the New Employee Packet. https://www.depts.ttu.edu/hr/EmployeeResources/NewEmpI-9.php

Full-time faculty should attend New Faculty Orientation offered in August and January each year. http://www.depts.ttu.edu/tlpdc/Resources/NewFacultyResources/
