Post-Doc Advising:

Yejun Choi. I supervised the work of Dr. Yejun Choi from October 2022 to July 2024. Dr. Choi is working on projects related to trade and industrial organization.

Xin Zhao. I have supervised the work of Dr. Zhao from October 2017 to July 2019. Dr. Zhao worked on USMCA and immigration.

Stevy P. Pangemanan. Post-doctoral visiting scholar from Indonesia. I worked with Pangemanan in completing a study on household model of duck rearing.

Osman Rahman. I supervised Rahman's work from December 2001 to present. Rahman is working on U.S.-Canada lumber trade disputes.

Antonio Gomez. Antonio's work (February 2001-May 2001) involved trade modeling of wheat sector and impact of trade liberalization policies on wheat market.

Wongun Song. I supervised Song's work from January 1999 to December 2000. Song worked on imperfect competition and trade, strategic trade policy, and export subsidy.

Sid Dasgupta. I supervised the work of Dasgupta from February 1997 to January 1998. He worked on topics related to game theory, international trade, and production economics.

Kent D. Lanclos. I have supervised the work of Dr. Lanclos since February 1994 to July 1996. Dr. Lanclos worked on the following projects: Impacts of the NAFTA and Uruguay Round of GATT on Idaho agriculture, trade policies and food processing industry, and economics of oligopsony markets.

Work on Legislative Requests

Member of the Commodity Trade Force. I was chosen by then Governor, Phil Batt, and continued under current Governor, Dirk Kempthorne as the University of Idaho expert to serve on this committee, which was headed by the Lt. Governor., Butch Otter, and comprised of 15 members from commodity commissions, government and academic staff. The purpose of this task force was to review U.S.-Canadian Free Trade Agreement, and North American Free Trade Agreement for ways to help protect Idaho farmers. The job of this task force was to advise the state government by identifying needed changes in these agreements and areas where better enforcement of current provisions is required.

Spent four weeks collecting information and conducting research to testify on the proposed legislation H.R. 1371: The Imported Meat Labeling Act of 1998 by U.S. Congressional Representative Helen Chenoweth. I presented testimony as an expert witness to a panel headed by Helen Chenoweth at the State Capitol Building in Boise.

Presented testimony "Trade and Idaho Agriculture," to Agricultural Affairs Committee, January 28, 1999 at the State Capitol, Boise. I spent three weeks preparing for this presentation.

I spent two weeks writing a report on the Impacts of the Uruguay Round of GATT on U.S. Agriculture. This report was requested by Senator Larry Craig.

I explored the possibilities of obtaining grant funding from the U.S. congress. We wrote a letter to Dean David Lineback informing him to contact Idaho congressional staff for this type of funding.

I worked on the effects of Idaho Wheat Growers' farm policy proposals. This request came from the Southern Idaho Congressman, Michael D. Carpo.

Binational Committee to investigate the grain trade in Canada and the United States. I was requested by the college to serve on this committee at the request of Senator Larry Craig. The purpose of this committee was to evaluate how Canadian transportation subsidies and the monopoly power of the Canadian Wheat Board are affecting the U.S. grain markets.

Provided a write-up of the impacts of GATT and NAFTA on Idaho sugarbeet industry. Dean David Lineback requested this write-up for state legislator Jim Kempton and Al Johnson.
