Welcome

Dear Big 12 Conference Colleagues,

On behalf of Texas Tech University, it is my honor to welcome you to Lubbock and to our beautiful campus. I appreciate you taking the time to join us in West Texas, and I sincerely hope you have a fun and worthwhile experience at this year's annual meeting.

In this time of growth for our conference, I look forward to meeting our new colleagues and building relationships that will propel the Big 12 and all its institutions forward.

The next three days provide us with a unique opportunity to make connections and share ideas with one another in a collaborative space.

There is always more that we can learn from each other's experiences, no matter the size or location of the university we come from.

Again, thank you all for joining us this year. We hope you enjoy your time on the Texas Tech campus and in Lubbock, and we hope you each gain valuable insight that you can bring back to your universities.

From Here, It's Possible.

Noel Sloan
CFO and Senior Vice President of Administration & Finance
