Davis College of Agricultural Sciences and Natural Resources
Award Selection Committee

Dear Committee,

It is my pleasure to nominate Professor Hannah Gauthier for the Hemphill-Wells New Professor Excellence in Teaching Award. Professor Hannah Gauthier has been a member of our faculty for no more than four years and has demonstrated exceptional teaching ability.

Professor Gauthier has demonstrated exceptional teaching ability as demonstrated by exceptional student evaluations, peer reviews of teaching, and administrator evaluation. Professor Gauthier has a heavy teaching load, yet exceeds department, college, and university averages for student evaluation scores. Professor Gauthier actively utilizes university resources, such as the TLPDC to enhance her teaching. Moreover, she is innovative and creative in her curriculum and approach.

Please find attached the nominee's vita and summary of student teaching evaluation scores for Davis College nomination. Your consideration of Professor Hannah Gauthier for this award is greatly appreciated.

Regards,

Dr. J Chance Brooks, Chair
Department of Animal and Food Sciences
