

DR. SCOTT BURRIS

Professor, Department Chair, and Garrison Endowed Chair for Rural Youth Development, Agricultural Education & Communications

Connecting instruction, learning, cognition, critical thinking, and psycho-physiology in the agriculture classroom.

RESEARCH EXPERTISE

- Instructional design
- Critical thinking and cognition
- Pre-service and in-service teacher development

PROFESSIONAL PREPARATION

- B.S. Texas Tech University, 1992
- M.S. University of Missouri, 2003
- Ph.D. University of Missouri, 2005

FAVORITE ARTICLE

Lu, P., Burris, S., Baker, M., Meyers, C., & Cummins, R. (2021). Cultural differences in critical thinking style: A comparison of U. S. and Chinese undergraduate agricultural students. Journal of International Agricultural and Extension Education, 28(4), 49-62. <https://newprairiepress.org/jiaee/vol28/iss4/5/>

WHAT MAKES THE DAVIS COLLEGE GREAT?

Easily, the people of Davis College are what makes it great. Faculty, staff, and students all embrace the culture of excellence and reinforce those values. As soon as someone becomes part of the college, the culture is infectious, and it is impossible not to embrace the commitment to excellence.

