CLOSING REMARKS

Kaylynn Kiker, President

COLLEGE OF AGRICULTURAL SCIENCES AND NATURAL RESOURCES
TEXAS TECH UNIVERSITY

The Student Agricultural Council

The Student Agricultural Council is composed of two representatives from each of the departmental clubs and the College of Agricultural Sciences and Natural Resources' Student Senators. A representative from the Office of the Dean of Agricultural Sciences and Natural Resources serves as a sponsor.

The purpose of the Student Agricultural Council is to establish a working relationship between students, faculty, administration and the agricultural community for the betterment of the students and the College of Agricultural Sciences and Natural Resources.

The goals of the Agricultural Council are:

1. To establish sound relations among agricultural students.
2. To establish a common bond among agricultural organizations at Texas Tech.
3. To foster better relations with the faculty.
4. To establish better communications within the university system.
5. To strive to maintain and improve relations within the agricultural community.

The annual Pig Roast is only one of the functions sponsored by the Agricultural Council to attain these goals.

Thank You to Our Sponsors

The J. Raymond Boyd Endowment, the Gerald W. Thomas Outstanding Agriculturalist Endowment, and the William D. O'Brien General Support Fund financially support the Ninetieth Annual Pig Roast. No state funds were used to support this function.

Intercollegiate Departmental Teams

The College of Agricultural Sciences and Natural Resources has a long history of success and accomplishments in intercollegiate competition. The various judging teams, academic teams and the rodeo teams are integral parts of the College and our students' education.

In fact, the College had a judging pavilion before it had a classroom. The Livestock Judging Pavilion was one of the first buildings on the Texas Tech campus and one of the College's two initial buildings. Over the years, the Pavilion has been one of the most versatile buildings on campus—livestock judging, basketball games, Pig Roast and landscape architecture studio. Today, it still symbolizes the commitment to and importance of intercollegiate teams as a critical educational component of the College.

The first Pig Roast, held in 1929 at the Livestock Pavilion, was a send off for the livestock judging team prior to their departure for the International Livestock Exposition in Chicago. A pig was roasted in a pit and the meal was enjoyed by the judging team and all who came to support them. Every year since, the Pig Roast has honored the College's intercollegiate teams in this time-honored tradition.

Gerald W. Thomas

Outstanding Agriculturalist Awards

Est. 1969, the Gerald W. Thomas Outstanding Agriculturalist Awards recognize people who contribute immeasurably to the general good of the agricultural industry. Individuals eligible for the awards must be successful and distinguished in his or her profession, business, and other worthy endeavors. They must have demonstrated significant contributions to the agricultural industry and be recognized by their contemporaries for their contributions.

Three individuals are selected each year to receive the awards; one each in the categories of agricultural production, agribusiness, and public service. Nominations are accepted from former Outstanding Agriculturalist Award recipients, administration, and faculty of the College of Agricultural Sciences and Natural Resources.

Former award recipients and College administration rank the nominees in each category and submit their selections to the Dean of the College. The award recipients are announced and honored each year in conjunction with the annual Pig Roast.

DEE VAUGHAN

AGRICULTURAL PRODUCTION

Dee Vaughan was born and raised near Plainview, Texas. After graduating from Plainview High School, he attended Texas Tech University to study agricultural economics. In 1978, Dee was granted an opportunity to acquire some land to start a farming operation. In order to take advantage of that opportunity, he decided to forgo the completion of his degree.

Farming has been a part of Dee's family since 1640, when the first Vaughans landed in Rhode Island and planted an apple orchard. Since then, there has been a Vaughan in the family farming continuously somewhere in North America. Dee continues the tradition on his farm near Dumas, Texas, where he and his wife Terri produce corn, cotton, sorghum seed, and wheat. His father retired from farming several years ago, but continues to lend advice and help with management. Dee and Terri have three daughters who have held ownership roles on the farm at various times. He accredits his wife and father for his involvement in agriculture. Dee's father encouraged him to become involved in farm organizations, and his wife has always been a source of support to enable him to serve not only their farm, but the agricultural community as well.

Since 1989, Dee has been a proactive supporter of Texas and U.S. agriculture beginning as a board member for the Lone Star Corn Growers Association. He currently serves as a director of the Corn Producers Association of Texas, the Texas Corn Producers Board, and the Southwest Council of Agribusiness. Dee also serves on the advisory committees of the Texas Ag Forum at the Texas A&M Ag and Food Policy Center, and the Southern Risk Management Education Center at the University of Arkansas. Additionally, he is a past board member of the Plains Cotton Growers, and served as president of the board of the Southwest Council of Agribusiness for three years. He also served as president of the National Corn Growers Association board for five years, and was appointed by Texas Agriculture Commissioner Todd Staples to participate on the Texas Grain Producers Indemnity Board, serving as board chairman for two years.

Dee has worked extensively on policy and regulatory issues pertaining to agriculture in the areas of farm policy, energy, transportation, and trade. He served as a corn industry representative to the Doha round of World Trade Organization negotiations in Cancun, Mexico, and to the WTO headquarters in Geneva, Switzerland. He has also traveled on numerous trade missions in the European Union and Russia. He credits his most memorable event to his involvement in the passage of the 2002 Farm Bill while representing the National Corn Growers Association.

The highlight of Dee's career has been the opportunities to work with such great people on numerous projects. He says he has been blessed to be able to make so many friends across the U.S. and Texas as result.

WAYNE SCHILLING

AGRIBUSINESS

Wayne Schilling is a West Texas native with a passion for Texas Tech University and pride for the farming industry. He continues to be a pivotal part of the land in the Texas Panhandle and a steward for conservation.

Wayne was born and raised near Hereford, Texas where he worked on the family farm until he graduated from Hereford High School in 1970. He later returned to the farm after attending West Texas State University. Wayne and his wife, Mary, moved to Slaton, Texas in 1979 to start an agricultural compost business. The Wayne Schilling Family has owned and operated South Plains Compost now for 38 years. Wayne credits his interest for increasing organic matter in the soil to a soil professor he had in college.

The Schilling family business composts cattle manure for agricultural use at feed yards from south of Lubbock to the Texas Panhandle. The main office is located in Slaton, with divisions in Bovina and Dalhart. His lawn and garden branch, Back to Nature, bags composted cotton burrs and ships them to independent nurseries and garden centers throughout Texas and surrounding states. Wayne and his family also farm cotton in the Lubbock area, and run a cow/calf operation.

Wayne was named the Lubbock County Conservation Farmer of the Year in 2017. He is an active member of the Southwest Council of Agribusiness, the United States Compost Council, the Texas Nursery and Landscape Association, and the Texas Cattle Feeders Association. He is a past member on the Business Development Board for Peoples Bank. Wayne and his family also received the Texas Tech University Department of Animal and Food Sciences Distinguished Service Award in 2016.

Wayne and Mary have been blessed with four children and twelve grandchildren. Wayne has instilled a family based atmosphere into his compost business. All three of their sons, Allen, Greg and BJ, along with their son-in-law Michael Schertz, and two of their daughters-in-law are involved in the business.

The Schilling family are long-time supporters of the Red Raider community. Six of Wayne and Mary's children, and their spouses, have degrees from Texas Tech University, and their oldest grandchild is currently an Animal Science major in the College of Agricultural Sciences and Natural Resources.

TONY D. WILLIAMS

PUBLIC SERVICE

Tony Williams was born and raised in the West Texas area to Don and Pasty Williams, along with four sisters. Tony attended Texas Tech University where he received a Bachelor's in Agricultural Economics in 1984. While at Texas Tech he was recognized as an Outstanding Student in the Department of Agricultural and Applied Economics.

Following graduation, Tony went on to work for Monsanto Agriculture Products as a sales representative in Eastern Washington State. In 1986, he moved back to Lubbock and began working for the National Cotton Council as a field representative for the Southern High Plains of Texas.

Since 1988, Tony has served as the Executive Vice president of the Texas Cotton Ginners' Association in Austin, Texas. While in this position he has been responsible for the financial operations, the TCGA Annual Convention & Trade Show, and also works with Legislature and governmental agencies to provide the cotton ginner's "point of view." He also serves as the organization's representative at state and national industry meetings throughout the year.

Tony was instrumental in crafting several significant pieces of legislation, including HB 2095 that allowed the Texas Cotton Ginners' Trust to self-insure as a group of employers for workers compensation insurance, and HB 2093 that adopted increasing the weight of cotton module trucks. In addition, he has worked on legislation dealing with electric utilities, appropriations, labor and unemployment and environmental regulations.

Beyond his more than 29 years of service to the TCGA, Tony currently serves as the Board Chairman of the Texas Cotton Gin Museum, on the Board of Directors for Ag Workers Mutual Auto Insurance, Texas Cotton Ginners' Trust advisor, Texas Agricultural Council Executive Committee, Texas A&M University Cotton Engineering, Ginning, & Mechanization Chair Advisory Council, Vice Chairman of the Texas Agricultural Cooperative Trust health insurance program, and has played a significant role in obtaining Hurricane & Tropical Storm Cotton Floater Insurance for cotton gins along the Texas Coast.

Throughout the years, Tony has served on several committees for the National Cotton Ginners' Association, is the Past Chairman of Texas Food & Fibers Commission Executive Advisory Committee, Past Co-Chair of Texas Agricultural Council and Past Co-Chair of the Texas Natural Resource Conservation Commission Agricultural Advisory Committee.

Tony was recognized in 2005 as a Life Member of the Texas Cotton Ginners' Association and in 2009 was honored with the National Cotton Ginners' Association Distinguished Service Award.

Tony is married to Lagina, and together they are raising two children, Jayna and Jaxon.

The annual Pig Roast has long been a highlight of the academic year in the College of Agricultural Sciences and Natural Resources. Starting as an informal gathering of Texas Tech agriculture students some ninety years ago, it has become a traditional event at which the College of Agricultural Sciences and Natural Resources, its students, faculty, and administration honor teams and individuals who have distinguished themselves and the University during the past year. Scholarship donors and recipients, as well as outstanding leaders in the field of agriculture, are also recognized and honored. This event also provides an opportunity to say Thank You to individuals and companies who have assisted in activities of the College. The Pig Roast is sponsored by the Student Agricultural Council of the College of Agricultural Sciences and Natural Resources.
