Statement of Access to Policies and the Dossier

Dr. So-and-So, Chair
Department of Academic Stuff
Texas Tech University

September 30, 2018

Dear Dr. So-and-So:

This letter is to affirm that I have reviewed the contents of my dossier as it is to be submitted to the Dean of the College of Arts & Sciences in consideration of my application for [tenure/promotion/etc] to [assistant/associate] professor.

Sincerely,

Your Best Candidate Yet
[Assistant/Associate] Professor
Dean’s Letter

Describe college procedures for arriving at college committee votes and the dean’s own recommendation.

Briefly explain the college review committee votes, especially if negative or mixed.

Explain any differences of the dean’s recommendation from the faculty vote or chair’s recommendation, based on evidence.
Chairperson’s Letter

Chairperson’s letter must evaluate the candidate’s teaching effectiveness, research, and creative activity, and professional service. Explain chair’s own recommendation fully and clearly based on critical review of the evidence from annual reviews, third-year review and other documented records of teaching outcomes, research agenda and indices, (including engaged scholarship, as applicable), professional service and outreach contributions. See OP 32.01 for additional information.

Include the total amount of funding and the amount attributed to the faculty member from ORS.

Describe departmental procedures for voting and state the counts for, against, abstaining, and absent on promotion and tenure.

Describe procedures for selection of external reviewers and summarize annual evaluations and third-year review.

State how rating of publications was determined.
Departmental Tenure and Promotion Review Committee’s Report

Information on the External Reviewers

A sample of the letter or email that was sent out to solicit external reviewers and provides them instruction on what to review should precede the “Information on the External Reviewers” page.

Each dossier should include 5 external letters. (Be sure and include in the dossier all solicited external letters).

Of those 5 external letters, a majority of them (3) must be from peer or peer-aspirant institutions.

Every candidate up for tenure and promotion will provide the chair (or the department’s tenure and promotion committee) with a list of possible external reviewers. Two of the individuals from that list can serve as an external reviewer. None of the external reviewers can have a conflict of interest.

The remaining external reviewers (3) will be selected from a list of potential external reviewers provided by the chair (or the department’s tenure and promotion committee).

For each external reviewer, include a brief biosketch that explains:

1. Relationship to candidate, if any (e.g. collaborator, coauthor, former supervisor, student).
2. The individual’s qualifications to judge the candidate’s work.
3. When there is a preponderance of letters from either women or men, consider stating whether the candidate’s field is gendered in order to clarify that the distribution is representative or not.
4. And consider how to clarify when the candidate’s area of study or performance is so new or recently emerging that most letter writers claim a lack of expertise.

Example:
Maggie Smith, Professor, Ohio State University (No Relationship to the Candidate—if there is a relationship be sure and explain it). Dr. Smith is an expert in the field of U.S. social history with a particular emphasis on workplace interactions and gender. She has published widely on the postwar period and has edited an important series of books. Biosketch for each external letter writer
Letters from External Reviewers
Candidate’s Original Letter of Offer

This is the offer letter from the chair prior to hire, signed by the chair and the candidate. It includes the expectations for the position, start-up, etc. (It is not the letter from the Provost.)
Basic Information

1. Name of Candidate:
2. Date of employment in this faculty position:
3. Rank and title at initial appointment:
4. Highest degree earned and where:
5. Terminal degree for this position
6. Special qualifications (licensure, certifications, etc.):
7. Professional experience in other institutions of higher education or other sectors:
8. Allocation of effort with initial appointment to this position:
   a. Teaching ______%
   b. Research______%
   c. Service ______%
   d. Other______ (e.g., administration) %

9. Allocation in present assignment:
   a. Teaching ______%
   b. Research______%
   c. Service ______%
   d. Other______ (e.g., administration) %

10. Average percent of assignment to teaching for last 3 years: _____%

Teaching load last 4 semesters, excluding summer:

Summary of Teaching Effectiveness

Provide a one to three page narrative of the candidate’s teaching philosophy.

Tabulate student evaluations of teaching on one page. The new evaluation form instituted in 2014-2015 has only three items and all three should be included (see next page).

Provide one page of representative student comments. You are not required to provide a comment from every course taught. You should provide at least one comment from each semester.

If you are up for promotion to full professor, tabulate student evaluations and provide representative student comments of your teaching for the previous five years.
Summary of Student Ratings of Instruction
Thomas Smith, Ph.D.
Candidate for Tenure and Promotion
Department of Academic Studies

All three items on the student evaluation form need to be included in this summary. Item 1: “The course objectives were specified and followed by the instructor.” Item 2: “Overall, the instructor was an effective teacher.” Item 3: “Overall, this course was a valuable learning experience.”

First year through most recent year. Not to exceed one page.

Evaluation Scale: 5 = excellent, 4 = outstanding, 3 = good, 2 = fair, 1 = poor

Representative Student Comments from Course Evaluations—First year through most recent year. Follow the format below, which includes the course number and the course title. Provide at least one comment per semester. Not to exceed one page.

Follow the format below

Fall 2016
Hist. 2301, U.S. History Since 1877, “Sometimes the professor was hard to follow but did a nice job preparing us for the exams.”

Spring 2017
Hist. 4307, U.S. History Since 1945, “The grading was hard and too much writing, but it was an interesting class and I learned a lot.”
Candidate’s Narrative of Research and Creative Activities

Provide a one-to-three page narrative of the goals and accomplishments of your research and creative activities. Specifically address measures of impact of your work (h-index, citations, invited presentations, fellowships, etc).

For any faculty member who is up for tenure or promotion for the first time since joining Tech, discuss the startup you received and how it was used/recovered in research activity.

Use ORS % credit to document grant funding, as applicable, and be sure and highlight any other funding. Speak to funded as well as unfunded proposals.
Candidate’s Narrative of Service/Outreach/Engagement

Summarize your discipline-specific service activities (one page). Comment on how service intersects with teaching and scholarly activity.
Candidate’s Statement of Goals

One-to-two page statement of where the faculty member envisions her teaching, research/creative activity, and service to be in five to seven years. And how she anticipates to get there.
Annual Reports, Chair Evaluations, and Third-year Review

Copies of the candidate’s:

1. Annual reports with chairperson’s assessments for the last 5 years. These should include the Faculty Annual Report and Chair Evaluation, by year, first year through most recent year.

2. The report of the third-year review (when applicable).

Example of requested order. Begin each year on a new page
2016 Faculty Annual Report and Chair Evaluation
2017 Faculty Annual Report and Chair Evaluation
2018 Faculty Annual Report and Chair Evaluation
Third-year Review
2019 Faculty Annual Report and Chair Evaluation
2020 Faculty Annual Report and Chair Evaluation
Appendices

Unsigned Ballot Comments (all faculty members who submit a ballot are strongly encouraged to provide an unsigned ballot comment)
Peer Evaluations

Provide the last 5 years of peer evaluations, first year through most recent year. OP 32.01 also states that “Candidates for promotion should also be provided peer evaluations of teaching in, at latest, the semester prior to application for promotion.” To be more specific, candidates up for promotion to professor are also required to have peer evaluations.
