

TEXAS TECH UNIVERSITY
Office of the Provost

Division of Undergraduate Education & Student Affairs

Academic Integrity Resources

Questions regarding Academic Integrity policies and processes at TTU can be directed to the Office of Student Conduct at (806) 742-1714

Academic Integrity Procedures

Academic Integrity Procedures for faculty and staff at Texas Tech University can be found in Part III (Community Policies), Section B (Academic Integrity) of the Student Handbook at <http://www.depts.ttu.edu/dos/handbook/>. Additional guidance for reporting allegations of academic dishonesty can be found at <http://www.depts.ttu.edu/studentconduct/>.

The Code of Student Conduct

The Texas Tech University Code of Student Conduct can be found at <http://www.depts.ttu.edu/dos/handbook/>

The Academic Integrity policies are located in Part I (Code of Student Conduct), Section B (Misconduct), Subsection 1 (Academic Misconduct).

Online Resources for the Academic Classroom

<http://plagiarism.org/>

Plagiarism.org is a free resource for students and faculty that provides education about what plagiarism is, how to avoid plagiarizing, citing sources, and even offers an online tool to check your work for plagiarism.

<http://www.aresearchguide.com/>

AREsearchGuide.com has dozens of “how to” articles for students to use regarding research papers, style guides such as MLA and APA, and bibliographies.

<http://osrr.missouri.edu/workshops/classroomactivities.html>

Renée Gravois Lee and Lisa Burns at Quinnipiac University developed 50 ways to jumpstart the academic integrity discussion in an academic classroom. Their classroom activities can be accessed from the University of Missouri’s website.

<http://www.oscai.umn.edu/integrity/faculty/case.html>

The University of Minnesota has developed some case studies to share with college students regarding academic integrity. If you choose to facilitate discussion on one of these case studies, refer to the TTU Code of Student Conduct for definitions and policies.