

Heather Coats

Eadingray etweenbay hetay afetysay ineslay

(Reading Between the Safety Lines)

Abstract:

Come discuss the finer points of safety awareness and hazard recognition with the safety department at Texas Tech. We will discuss recent changes to safety program implementation, run through lab scenarios, review how the EHS office supports your safe work and learning on campus, and your role in ensuring a safe learning environment.

Bio:

Heather is a Lubbock native and currently serves as the Training & Outreach Manager at Environmental Health and Safety. She earned a BS in Chemistry and MS in Chemistry before beginning in the education realm. Heather trains new faculty, staff, and students across campus, manages the TIPS Training Lab for EHS, and works nationally to aid other safety professionals in developing impactful training content and building positive relationships with their campuses.