

Natural Products and New Synthetic Methods.

Our research group is focused on the development of new useful synthetic methods and the total synthesis of complex natural products with appealing biological functions. Several case studies, representing each one of these research areas will be presented along with a preview of other ongoing programs. At the end of the seminar I will provide a short summary of our unusual organic chemistry focused education/research products.