University OPs related to Faculty Research Awards

- OP 32.21 Chancellor’s Council Distinguished Research Award
- OP 32.24 Faculty Awards (Barnie E. Rushing Jr. Faculty Distinguished Research Award)

POLICY/PROCEDURE

1. Background

The purpose of the Faculty Research Awards Committee (FRAC) is to recognize and promote research excellence in the College of Engineering by recommending to the dean names of faculty for distinctive research honors. Responsibilities include reviewing Horn Professor nominations from the college, recommending faculty for appointment as Ed and Linda Whitacre Faculty Fellows and as recipients of the Whitacre Engineering Research Awards, and recommending faculty candidates for university research awards. In addition, the committee may review and recommend candidates for college-wide research award solicitations from external organizations such as The Academy of Medicine, Engineering and Science in Texas (TAMEST) New Faculty Award.

The role of this committee extends beyond simply soliciting and reviewing nomination packets, but also includes faculty development of nominees to help them prepare highly competitive dossiers and solicit compelling external letters, and mentoring faculty for national awards. Hence, membership to this committee is restricted to the college’s most distinguished researchers who are prepared to help other faculty members achieve similar levels of recognition, thereby bringing value not only to the faculty but also to the college’s national reputation.

- a. To promote and recognize growth in research excellence, the college provides the following research recognition:
 - Ed and Linda Whitacre Faculty Fellows.
 These fellowships are targeted at midcareer faculty to provide visible and prestigious recognition that will better prepare them for obtaining external research awards and other honors. The Whitacre Faculty Fellowship will be held for no more than three years.
 - Whitacre Engineering Research Awards.
 Three awards will be given annually to engineering faculty for excellence in research. Two awards will be for excellence in research over the past five years; one award will be for evidence of research growth over the past three to five years.
- b. Based on the Faculty Research Awards Committee recommendations, the dean recommends to the vice president for research a candidate for the following awards (see University OPs 32.21 and 32.24):

Chancellor’s Council Distinguished Research Award	(Competitive)
Barnie E. Rushing Jr. Faculty Distinguished Research Award	(Competitive)
Outstanding Researcher Award, College of Engineering	(Noncompetitive)

2. Presentation of Research Awards/Recognition of University Nominees

WCOE award recipients and the college’s university award nominees are recognized annually at the Spring WCOE faculty and staff banquet where checks will also be presented. Departmental functions and other college functions may also be occasions to celebrate these achievements. University award winners will also be recognized by the university at the Spring Faculty Honors Convocation.

3. Membership of the Faculty Research Awards Committee (FRAC)

The committee shall consist of a minimum of two Horn Professors; the college’s previous winners of the Barnie E. Rushing Jr. Faculty Distinguished Research Award and the Chancellor’s Council Distinguished Research Award; and two appointments by the Dean. The Dean shall name the Chair of the committee. Department chairs are ineligible to serve. The committee will appoint a secretary from within its members to keep a record of their deliberations with permanent records maintained by the Dean’s office.

4. Award Eligibility Restrictions

General Guidelines:

- a. Previous winners of college and university research awards will be ineligible for re-nomination for the same award category.
