What We Do
Members of the Engineering Diplomats will represent the interests and policies of the WCOE regarding international programming opportunities. The organization will function in a similar way to the Engineering Ambassadors. Diplomats will assist the WCOE in promoting and recruiting students for international programs.

Who We Are Looking For
We are looking for engineering students who have participated in a TTU approved international experience, and who are willing to help, orient and recruit other WCOE students who are required to go abroad. To become a Diplomat, you must be passionate about sharing with your peers the benefits and experiences you gained while going abroad and how the experiences positively impacted your life, academics, and future career.

If you: always said that going abroad was one of the best experiences in your life; have leadership and communication skills; have contacts overseas; then, you must want to become an Engineering Diplomat.
