CSC Seminar Today

The Climate Science Center's seminars resume today, April 4th, at Noon in Experimental Sciences Building room 120. Three expert panelists will be speaking and answering questions about their research on spirituality in relation to climate change. This month's panelists are Dr. Katharine Hayhoe, Dr. Ken Baake, and Reverend Kevin Young. All faculty, staff, and students are welcome. Cookies and coffee will be provided! This month's seminar is sponsored by Texas Tech University's English Department. LEARN MORE

Video Of The Week

Check out one of our Climate Witness videos featuring Andy Timmons, discussing how his vineyard has adapted to climate change. Andy's approach to cultivate his vineyard changes every year because of the unpredictable weather patterns in West Texas. Andy has adopted new irrigation practices and technologies to measure the intake of water in the soil. WATCH NOW
