

TEXAS TECH UNIVERSITY
College of Education

Dean's Executive Fellowship Doctoral Cohort Program

a full-time, on-campus doctoral program for international and/or underrepresented students

The Dean's Executive Fellowship Doctoral Cohort Program prepares students to become:

- Emerging scholars who focus on education and educational research that is interdisciplinary, comparative, convergent, transdisciplinary, transnational, and transformative.
- Critical scholars who can theorize and analyze current educational issues that affect the well-being of all learners, which include but are not limited to immigrants, migrants, refugees, minoritized and marginalized population, and LGBTQI community.
- Community engaged scholars who promote social change in local, regional, state, national, and international communities.

Students complete a Ph.D. in Curriculum and Instruction with one of four concentrations:

- General
- Curriculum Studies and Teacher Education
- Language, Diversity, and Literacy Studies
- STEM Education

Competitive four years of funding available through fellowships, research assistantships, graduate teaching assistantships, and endowed scholarships.

APPLICATION DEADLINE:
NOV. 1, 2022

For more information, contact
Jairo Funez at jairo.funez@ttu.edu or 806-834-6175
or Jeong-Hee Kim at jeong-hee.kim@ttu.edu or 806-834-6075