

Classical Liberalism in Philosophy, Politics, and Economics

July 22-26, 2024

Monday, July 22
9:15-9:30 AM	Registration - Anglo American University
9:30-10:30 AM	The Ideal of Equality Mark LeBar, Florida State University
10:30-11:45 AM	Group Discussion/Q&A
11:45 AM-1:45 PM	Lunch On Your Own
1:45-2:45 PM	Freedom and the Wealth of Nations Adam Martin, Texas Tech University
2:45-4:00 PM	Group Discussion/Q&A
Tuesday, July 23
9:30-10:30 AM	From Planning to Markets Josef Šíma, Metropolitan University, Prague
10:30-11:45 AM	Group Discussion/Q&A
11:45 AM-1:45 PM	Lunch On Your Own
1:45-2:45 PM	Immigration and Freedom Chandran Kukathas, Singapore Management University
2:45-4:00 PM	Group Discussion/Q&A
Wednesday, July 24
9:30-10:30 AM	The Challenge of Social Order: Voluntary vs. Coercive Means Daniel D'Amico, Wabash College
10:30-11:45 AM	Group Discussion/Q&A
11:45 AM-1:45 PM	Lunch On Your Own
Afternoon	History Tour: Totalitarianism in Prague
Thursday, July 25
9:30-10:30 AM	Public Choice Adam Martin, Texas Tech University
10:30-11:45 AM	Group Discussion/Q&A
11:45 AM-1:45 PM	Lunch On Your Own
1:45-2:45 PM	What We Can Learn About the Free Society from Tocqueville Christine Henderson, Singapore Management University
2:45-4:00 PM	Group Discussion/Q&A
Friday, July 26
9:30-10:30 AM	Better Living Through Civility Mark LeBar, Florida State University
10:30-11:45 AM	Group Discussion/Q&A
11:45 AM-1:45 PM	Lunch On Your Own
1:45-2:45 PM	Liberalism and the Open Society Chandran Kukathas, Singapore Management University
2:45-4:00 PM	Group Discussion/Q&A