

What do great inventions over the last 200 years all have in common?

- A. They were designed to improve the quality of life for humans.
- B. They were designed to benefit corporations over employees.
- C. They were designed to reduce human labor.
- D. They were designed to make a few people very rich.
- E. A. and C. are both correct choices.

With implementation of new technologies, which of the following trends is/are predicted?

- A. Overall numbers of new jobs are expected to decrease.
- B. Education above high school will become unnecessary.
- C. In the very near future, the demand for new gadgets and information will greatly diminish.
- D. All the above trends are likely to occur.
- E. None of the above changes are likely to occur.

How can the U.S. reap the harvest of the current technological prosperity?

- A. Identify employment changes over the next several generations and provide specialized training to match future technology demands.
- B. Equip future work forces with critical thinking skills to nimbly adapt to an ever changing labor market.
- C. Focus on labor markets that do not change with time such as construction and energy grids.
- D. A. and C. are both correct choices.
- E. A., B. and C. are all correct choices.

How has implementation of technology via automated teller machines (ATMs) impacted employment for bank tellers?

- A. Substantially reduced the number of tellers required for banking services.
- B. Substantially increased the number of tellers required for banking services.
- C. Had little impact on the number of tellers required for banking services.
- D. Decreased teller numbers in rural areas in which ATMs can be safely used but not in high-crime urban areas.
- E. Decreased teller numbers in urban areas in which ATMs are preferred over face-to-face interactions.

Which of the following statements best predicts how technology will affect future employment?

- A. Technology will eliminate the need for humans in the labor market.
- B. The demand for performance and reliability in the labor market will increase as complex tasks are shared between humans and computers.
- C. Technology will result a stratification of society along the lines of the haves and the have nots.
- D. Technology has made predictions about future labor needs impossible.
- E. None of the above statements are correct.

It is meaningful and enriching to have social relationships with people from different religions, cultures, ethnicities and/or sexual orientation?

- A. No, I prefer to socialize only with people I can relate to.

- B. Sort of. I talk to people from different backgrounds in school-related situations, but I usually find it difficult to become good friends with people different than myself.
- C. I have one or two friends from different backgrounds however I don't go out of my way to make friends with people who have different perspectives or beliefs.
- D. Yes, my social circle reflects the diversity around me.
- E. Yes, my social circle reflects the diversity around me and I think diverse friends very much enriches my life.

Getting to know other people teaches you many valuable things.

- A. Strongly Disagree
- B. Disagree
- C. Neutral
- D. Agree
- E. Strongly Agree

I like to maintain an open, approachable manner and treat others fairly and respectfully.

- A. Strongly Disagree
- B. Disagree
- C. Neutral
- D. Agree
- E. Strongly Agree

I anticipate and recognize the concerns of others, even if those concerns are not openly expressed.

- A. Strongly Disagree
- B. Disagree
- C. Neutral
- D. Agree
- E. Strongly Agree

I promote the contributions and accomplishments of friends and classmates to others.

- A. Strongly Disagree
- B. Disagree
- C. Neutral
- D. Agree
- E. Strongly Agree