The Why

Why should students apply for externally funded fellowships and other awards?

- Individual benefits
 - Financial
 - Prestige
 - More opportunities
- Enhance scholarly activity
 - More publications/performances
 - More funded research projects
- Institutional benefits
 - Increases graduate student capacity
 - Contributes to stature of university

National Competitive Fellowships Interest

- The US Federal Government supports many fellowship programs. If you are a US citizen, US national, or permanent resident you may be eligible to apply.
- Please indicate your interest in receiving more information on the following programs.
 - National Science Foundation Graduate Research Fellowship Program: $159,000 in stipend and cost-of-education to support research in many science and engineering fields.
 - Fulbright: 6-9 months of support to conduct research, teach, or enroll in a special MS program in over 100 countries.
 - National Institutes of Health Ruth L. Kirschstein Pre-doctoral Individual National Research Service Award: The program enables promising pre-doctoral students with potential to develop into a productive, independent research scientists, to obtain mentored research training while conducting dissertation research.

Search for Opportunities

Use the search engine resources below to find external grants, fellowships, and postdoctoral positions. In addition to searching general fellowships, you can search for fellowships specific to discipline and to special population (e.g., veterans, international students, minority students).

For additional help and guidance in finding external funding opportunities, please contact the Texas Tech Librarian for Research, Instruction & Outreach - Brian Quinn .

- The Foundation Center
- Funding Institutional

NSF Review Criteria

The following elements should be considered in the review for both criteria:

1. What is the potential for the proposed activity to:
 - a. Advance knowledge and understanding within its own field or across different fields (Intellectual Merit)
 - b. Benefit society or advance desired societal outcomes (Broader Impacts)
2. To what extent do the proposed activities suggest and explore creative, original, or potentially transformative concepts?
3. Is the plan for carrying out the proposed activities well-reasoned, well-organized, and based on a sound rationale? Does the plan incorporate a mechanism to assess success?
4. How well qualified is the individual, team, or organization to conduct the proposed activities?
5. Are there adequate resources available to the PI (either at the home organization or through collaborations) to carry out the proposed activities?

TEXAS TECH
UNIVERSITY.

Personal, Relevant Background and Future Goals

In this section you are convincing the reviewers that you have the:

- educational background
- experience
- leadership
- motivation
- other positive personal and professional characteristics to successfully carry out the research proposed

TEXAS TECH
UNIVERSITY.

From here, it's possible.

Personal, Relevant Background and Future Goals

- Intellectual Merit

- Why you?
 - What do you bring that will make you successful, a leader in your field?
- Describe your previous research experience(s)
 - What did you contribute?
 - What did you learn (e.g., skills – experimental, software, hardware, inter-personal, etc.)?
- Tie in your background (education and experiences) with what you plan to do (future goals).

TEXAS TECH
UNIVERSITY.

From here, it's possible.

Personal, Relevant Background and Future Goals

- Broader Impacts

- How did you, personally and/or through your past research, impact society beneficially?
- Reviewers are impressed with what you 'have done,' rather than 'will do.'
- How do you plan to actively participate/give back to society?
- Don't exaggerate, be reasonable.
- Have you had to overcome a unique challenge?

TEXAS TECH
UNIVERSITY.

From here, it's possible.

Graduate Research Plan Statement

- Background

- Topically relevant to the mission of NSF
- Convey to reviewers that you know what has been done and the significance of the work proposed
- Do your homework (i.e., literature review)
- What is considered state-of-the-art or current thinking?
- What is your motivation for performing the research?
- Are there important benchmarks to be surpassed?
- Why is this research important?

TEXAS TECH
UNIVERSITY.

From here, it's possible.

Graduate Research Plan Statement

- Intellectual Merit

- What is significant about the proposed research?
- What problem will it solve?
- How will it advance knowledge?
- How will it impact science/engineering?
- You are trying to convince a review panel of experts, though not necessarily in the area you are proposing, that your research area is important enough to award you money.

TEXAS TECH
UNIVERSITY.

From here, it's possible.

Graduate Research Plan Statement

- Broader Impacts

- You need to convince a panel that the proposed research will impact society and that you will impact society. Be reasonable and realistic.
- Consider:
 - full participation of women, persons with disabilities, and underrepresented minorities in science, technology, engineering, and mathematics (STEM);
 - improved STEM education and educator development at any level;
 - increased public scientific literacy and public engagement with science and technology;
 - improved well-being of individuals in society;
 - development of a diverse, globally competitive STEM workforce;
 - applications of research
 - increased partnerships between academia, industry, and others;
 - improved national security;
 - increased economic competitiveness of the US; and
 - enhanced infrastructure for research and education

TEXAS TECH
UNIVERSITY.

From here, it's possible.

Graduate Research Plan Statement

- Other suggestions:
 - Make the proposal easy to read with clearly defined sections.
 - Include a brief plan for accomplishing the research.
 - Divide the work into phases and describe the work to be performed in each phase (timeframe).

TEXAS TECH
UNIVERSITY.

From here, it's possible.

Reference Letters

- Three reference letters required.
- Important to ask someone who knows you well enough that they can cite specific examples of your work and/or personal characteristics that support your proposal
- Ask for letters well in advance - Professors, Intern and Coop Supervisors, Research Supervisors
- Provide a brief synopsis (no more than a couple of pages) of yourself to your references
 - Personal and academic achievements
 - Activities your references would not be aware of that support your personal characteristics and goals
