RESILIENCE & RETENTION CONFERENCE

Jeramey Gillilan

Senior Academic Advisor,
College of Arts & Sciences

Texas Tech University

Jeramey Gillilan serves as the Senior Academic Advisor for the interdisciplinary General Studies degree within the College of Arts & Sciences and as the program manager for the innovative Career Academy. This transformative four-year initiative equips students with the skills, confidence, and leadership acumen to excel in their professional pursuits. Through a curriculum grounded in career competencies, leadership principles, and academic rigor, the Career Academy aligns with Texas's 60x30TX initiative to cultivate the next generation of leaders. The program emphasizes mentorship, community engagement, and experiential learning, fostering personal growth and lifelong connections.

Jeramey holds both a Bachelor's and a Master's degree in History from Texas Tech University. His greatest achievement, though, is potty-training his 3-month German Shepherd, Indy.
