ADMISSION TO HONORS COURSES

Honors courses are designed for Honors College members; however, any TTU student with a GPA of 3.0 or better is eligible to enroll in an Honors section as space permits.

For more information, or to request a seat in an Honors section, please contact the Honors College:
McClellan Hall, Room 101 | (806) 742-1828 | honors.advising@ttu.edu

GRADUATION WITH HONORS DESIGNATIONS

Students must complete a minimum of 24 hours in Honors/Honors Enhanced coursework to graduate from Texas Tech University with the transcript designation “with Honors from the Honors College.”

A student who wishes to graduate with the transcript designation “with Highest Honors from the Honors College” must complete an Honors thesis and an additional 6 hours of thesis-specific coursework. Permission from the Honors College is required before beginning the Honors thesis.

Students must maintain a TTU GPA of 3.5 to remain in the Honors College and graduate with either of the above Honors designations. A final grade of B- or higher is required in Honors/Honors Enhanced coursework in order to apply toward the minimum Honors requirements.

Students intending to graduate with either designation must file an “Intent to Graduate” form with the Honors College one year prior to the graduation date. Honors College designations are listed on the transcript and the diploma. These are in addition to other distinctions graduates may earn, such as Latin Honors (e.g., Summa cum laude, Magna cum laude, and Cum laude).

HOW TO USE THIS BOOKLET

Course information, such as days and times, are subject to change.**

The core curriculum information listed in this booklet reflects the university’s list of core curriculum requirements, effective fall 2014 and following.

If you notice a discrepancy between the contents of this booklet and info reflected on Raiderlink, please note that Raiderlink is updated with greater frequency; thus, it’s likely more up to date. That said, we encourage you to contact the Honors Advising team (at honors.advising@ttu.edu) if you notice any such discrepancy.

October 2025

Honors student:

Registration for Spring 2026 courses is approaching! Along those lines, the Honors advising process will commence soon.

Please see the dates below for information relevant to your classification by hours, earned as of August 2025. We recommend that you log into your Student Dashboard now and then again a few days before your registration date to:

- Look under “Student Information” then “Enrollment Information” to ensure your earned hours are correct.
- Then toggle to the “Details” tab above your picture to select “Registration Information” where you can:
 - Check your “Registration Dates” for Spring 2026.
 - Check your “Holds” for any current or future holds that could affect your registration on your assigned day.
- Email honors.advising@ttu.edu immediately if you do not have a SENIOR or HONORS Time Ticket.

Classification by earned/completed hours	FALL 2025 registration opens

all times Central time-zone

All Honors students can expect to receive email correspondence containing instructions on what actions to take in preparation for advising/registration. Remember to check your Clutter or Junk folders, in case our correspondence is directed there.

Appointment Scheduling Information:

Honors advising is focused on assisting with the identification of Honors course options and strategizing completion plans for your Honors requirements. Please make arrangements to connect with your primary major advisor to discuss your overall degree plan.

Honors advising appointments will be conducted in-person at McClellan Hall. Not all Honors students are required to meet with an Honors advisor, but all are welcome. If you are part of an Honors population that is required to meet with an Honors advisor, or would simply like to connect with an Honors advisor, please use Raider Success Hub (RSH) at success.ttu.edu, to self-schedule an appointment time.

- Students selected this Fall 2025 for the San Francisco Scholars Cohort are required to schedule an advising appointment with Michael Lucero. Please make this appointment using the Honors College San Francisco Scholar Advising option in RSH.
- Honors new current/transfer Honors students (admitted to the College for a Spring 2026 start) are required to schedule an advising appointment with an advisor. An Honors advising hold may be placed until the student schedules an appointment via RSH.
- Honors students who seek scholarship funding through the Honors College are required to see an Honors advisor prior to applying for scholarships
- Honors students who are not making steady progress towards Honors course requirements will be contacted and are required to schedule an advising appointment. An Honors advising hold may be placed until the student schedules an appointment via RSH.
- Honors students who are on track to graduate within the next academic year are strongly encouraged, though not required, to schedule an advising appointment. No Honors advising hold should be placed.

- Honors students who are pursuing 2+2 pre-health prerequisites and intend to complete Honors requirements on an accelerated path before application to professional schools are strongly encouraged to schedule an advising appointment. No Honors advising hold should be placed. Please make this appointment with Michael Lucero using the Honors College 2+2 Accelerated Programs option in RSH.
- All other Honors students are invited to make an appointment to discuss Honors-related advising questions. No Honors advising hold should be placed.

Course Planning and Registration Information:

All university classes for Spring 2026 should be loaded on Raiderlink approximately October 6th. Honors and HE+ sections offered during the Spring semester will be listed in the Spring 2026 Course booklet which should be available to access online here approximately October 6th. The Honors course booklet is subject to revision as Honors/HE+ sections are added, cancelled, or otherwise modified.

Unless specified as application-based, all Honors courses will be unrestricted to any student with an Honors cohort code. Prerequisites required for specific classes are in place as indicated by the university and the individual teaching departments. Exceptions include sections H01 and H02 of CHEM 1308 which are initially reserved for current students enrolled in H01 and H02 of CHEM 1307. These sections are also only for first-year students.

Please note that Visual Schedule Builder does NOT pull in Honors/Honors Enhanced course sections accurately. We recommend you use the Plan Ahead Tool in the Add/Drop classes portal or the Section Search Tool—and definitely in conjunction with the Honors Course Booklet—to build your schedule manually. Additionally, course options earmarked as Honors Enhanced (HE+) can only be identified in the online Honors Course Booklet, so be sure to reference it frequently.

You can find a sample degree plan/course sequence for your major in the TTU Undergraduate Catalog (catalog.ttu.edu) or find course requirements in your DegreeWorks portal.

Always include your R# in any correspondence with a TTU advisor so that we can help you more efficiently.

Waitlists/Full Sections:

The Honors College no longer manages in-house waitlists for any Honors courses with the exception of the limited application-based courses. All other Honors sections will be opened at the time of registration for all students with an Honors cohort code. If a section fills, the student should add themselves to the Raiderlink waitlist for the desired section AND immediately register for an alternate, non-Honors section of the same course OR another alternate course that would be acceptable for degree sequencing. It is imperative to register for an alternate course as soon as possible in the event that the student's name never comes up on the Raiderlink waitlist. Being on a waitlist does NOT guarantee that a seat will become open to you later.

If a space opens in a full course and you are the next person on the Raiderlink waitlist, the Raiderlink system should send information and instructions to your TTU email address. You will have a specific window of time to take action in registering for your offered seat, so it is essential that you check your TTU email daily.

Do not contact instructors of full courses for overrides. Raiderlink will track enrollments and notify waitlisted students of available seats in a fair and orderly manner. Advisors are not authorized to override the automated Raiderlink waitlist system even if a professor were to approve you for their course.

Please let us know if questions arise. You are welcome to reach out to an individual Honors advisor or to us at honors.advising@ttu.edu.

We look forward to serving you in your preparations for the Spring 2026 semester, and beyond!

~ Your Honors Advising Team

CRN	Section No.	Class Type	Days	Time	Max Enrollment.

Prerequisite: Enrollment in the Honors College or approval of the Honors Dean.

An introductory course for first-year Honors students emphasizing the development of critical thinking and oral and written communications skills through the framework of a visual and performing arts discipline.

No one can teach you to be creative. No one needs to. We are– each and every one of us– creative by virtue of being human. But we can learn to be better at creative work by understanding the creative process. Through readings, group and individual projects, and seminar discussion, you will develop a vision of the creative process, learn to identify blocks to that process, and acquire techniques for getting you unblocked. This course is not just about art but about creative thinking and habits that are applicable to all human endeavors.

In 2021 Mystery Science Theater 3000 launched another Kickstarter campaign to bring back the show for a 13th season without a sponsoring network. This time the creators of the show would produce the show on their own online theater called The Gizmoplex which had a 2022 debut. They again raised enough funds to make a 13th season. The 2015 reboot of the television program Mystery Science Theater 3000 (MST3K) became the largest crowd-funded video project in history at that time. No small feat for a show that had its last broadcast years ago in 1999. MST3K, a low-budget comedy program that made fun of and riffed on bad movies, aired on two major cable networks, one public access station, and produced a theatrical film in the span of eleven years (1988-1999). The show developed a fanatical following and is now considered by fans and critics one of the funniest and smartest programs to ever grace the small screen. In today's transmedia world, the impact of riffing is all around us from online memes, mashups on YouTube to fan-created cultures. This summit will focus on MST3K (and its various offshoots like RiffTrax. The Mads, Cinematic Titanic), its creators, the history of riffing (which pre-dates MST3K), comedy writing, fandom, and taking one form of art and creating something new and unique from it. The reboot Mystery Science Theater 3000: The Return (2017) and the MST3K The Gauntlet (2018) were both critical successes on Netflix and have a 100% fresh rating on Rotten Tomatoes. At the time of this writing a 14th season is being planned. This course will also examine in detail films that were riffed on Mystery Science Theater 3000. Students will have the opportunity to practice the art of riffing throughout the class and learn the basics of what makes good comedy riffing. In addition, students will collaborate on writing a riffing comedy script and performing it. Please note you are expected to watch terrible films and historical shorts that are politically incorrect by today's standards. This course contains sarcasm! A former student here in the Honors College contacted me not too long ago. She had graduated from TTU with a degree in engineering, and now had a new job at NASA. “Thank you,” she said, “for teaching me to write. I’m an engineer, but mostly what I do at NASA is write.” If you are on your way to law school, medical school, or other graduate work; or you plan to get a job, most any job, after finishing your undergraduate degree, you are going to need to write well. And the only way to learn to write well is to practice writing. Not to mention, as the American poet Richard Hugo has written, “A creative writing class may be one of the last places you can go where your life still matters.”

In Writing Your Story, we will practice writing creative nonfiction about our own lives. Perhaps you love to travel, and now you want to learn how to write about your travels. Perhaps you want to write about a place or a person. Perhaps you want to write about cooking and food. Perhaps you want to write about experiences in nature, your love for the movies, sports, or bears. The choice is yours. We’ll learn how to write active scenes with dialogue, personal reflection, and how to incorporate information, all of which add up to learning how to tell a good story.

The Oxford dictionary defines ethnobotany as “the scientific study of the traditional knowledge and customs of a people concerning plants and their medical, religious, and other uses,” including, yes, as food. In this introductory ethnobotany class we’ll take up questions such as, When is an agave not just an agave, but a cultural and geographical marker? How did hot peppers go from Mexico and what is now New Mexico to every corner of the globe? Our journey will be to discover what foodways have to teach us about human and natural migrations, resilience, and living well in our time and place. We will strive to go back to so-called beginner mind, the better to see landscapes, people, and food in new ways. You can expect some unique experiences (and tastings), opportunities to get outside, and a chance to apply your knowledge outside of the classroom.

This class has a mandatory Field Immersion Week component that will take participants to Tucson and southern Arizona, tentatively scheduled January 27-31. The course also requires frequent participation in field experiences during the class time at sites in the locality of Lubbock and generally within a fifteen-minute drive of campus. Accommodation will be made for those who have classes immediately before or after those sessions, and carpooling is always available. We might walk for multiple hours in the field in the course of outdoor site visits and field experiences. The required field immersion experience entails a multiday trip and camping in Arizona for which equipment will be provided. Every effort will be made to minimize the costs of participation, but students will be asked to pay for some meals and incidentals during the field immersion week.

HONS 4302: The Horror Genre

Instructor: Rob Weiner | Campus: Lubbock TTU

19057	H08	4000-lvl Seminar	R	4:00pm-6:50pm	25
CRN	Section No.	Class Type	Days	Time	Max Enrollment.

The horror genre is consistently one of the most widespread types of storytelling whether in film, literature, sequential art, television, or videogames. Long-ignored writers like H.P. Lovecraft are now in the Library of America series and there is renewed interest in the works of Arthur Machen, Clark Ashton Smith, and Robert W. Chambers. Stephen King is one of the most successful and widely read writers in history. Horror films still make money year after year and television shows like American Horror Story are among the most popular. With so much real horror in the world, why do we still love the horror genre? This course takes a multidisciplinary approach to studying horror. It includes examining early cosmic literary horror, novel to film adaptation, horror related music, and how horror is used in sequential art. In addition, we will study the history of forensic science in true crime and try to understand how certain cases were solved or remain unsolved. We will also look at the history of medicine and certain historically associated horrors. This course tries to answer the questions: What purpose does horror serve in our lives and why do we like being scared? Students will have the opportunity to make their own horror film as their final project. This course has mature content. Please note this course is reading intensive.

This course seeks to chart the historical and political development of the Arab Israeli conflict by analyzing key events and controversies which have shaped the struggle. The course takes an in depth look at the peoples involved, the changing situations on the ground and the ramifications the conflict has for the world beyond the regional borders. The course divides the conflict into four main stages. The first is a proto-nationalist stage that examines the Zionist and Arab nationalist movements as they grew from ideologies to full-fledged political entities from the 1880s to 1917. The second stage 1917-1948, from the Balfour declaration to the creation of the state of Israel, sees two nationalist movements competing for the same land. The third stage, from 1948-1987, can be understood as a state against state conflict which sees the state of Israel engaged in a conflict with other nations. The fourth stage, identified as Israel against political Islam, shows the conflict being waged not only between Israel and other nation states, but against armed Islamic political movements such as Hamas, Hezbollah, and Islamic Jihad. Time is also dedicated to broader ethical issues of academic and community representations of the Arab Israeli conflict, and the nature of scholarly and community authority.

SPRING 2026 HONORS ENHANCED (HE+) COURSES

HE+ courses are a great way to earn Honors credit! In HE+ courses, you'll experience an honors enrichment activity with your faculty member and other Honors students, in regular TTU courses. Get ready for many more Honors opportunities to earn Honors credit – in every major – even at the upper division!

If an Honors student enrolls in a designated HE+ section and successfully completes it (earning a grade of B- or better in the class) and successfully completes the non-graded Honors enrichment activity, that student will earn the number of general Honors credits associated with the credit assigned to the course. For example: with HIST 2301-001, the Honors student would earn 3 hours of Honors credit.

PLEASE NOTE that HE+ sections, regardless of level, only fulfill general Honors course requirements (and do NOT fulfill the 3000-level and 4000-level seminar requirements).

With designated HE+ sections, there will be a HONS 0001 stand-alone no-credit course associated with it. The student would enroll in the HONS 0001 section associated with the HE+ lecture section in order to be a part of the HE+ initiative.

 Several HE+ sections will be built and loaded in Raiderlink soon. The HE+ sections currently built are noted in this booklet in the pages following this one, but there will be more! We expect several more HE+ sections to be added in the coming days– be sure to access updated versions of this booklet for newly added courses. ***

The Honors College will contact all Honors students enrolled in each of the HE+ lecture sections with instructions about adding the HONS 0001 no-credit course to your schedule.

Credit-Bearing Independent Research and Honors Thesis Sections

In addition to the above traditional course sections, Honors students may receive HONS course credit for independent research. Options include one semester of such credit through the Undergraduate Research Scholars program, a semester-long independent study with a faculty member in Honors or in their discipline, or the Honors Thesis (a commitment that spans the final two long semesters of an Honors student's undergraduate degree). The opportunities are coded in the following manner:

HONS 3300 – URS research credit, non-URS research independent study, Thesis 1

HONS 4300 – Thesis 2

In all cases, students may not register for these sections on their own as part of their normal course registration process. URS students who indicate a desire in their URS application to receive course credit through HONS 3300 will be issued a permit and contacted by the URS Coordinator. Students who wish to pursue a research independent study should make an appointment to speak with Associate Dean Robert Peaslee at robert.peaslee@ttu.edu. Students who wish to pursue the Honors Thesis must complete an application and should consult with Thesis coordinator Beth Scheckel at beth.scheckel@ttu.edu.

Honors students may complete HONS 3300 a maximum two times, provided that one of those sections is Thesis 1.

What is the Honors Thesis? An Honors Thesis is a long-form research project or creative work that conforms to the standards of publication, exhibition, or performance in a chosen field. The Honors thesis program consists of two semester-long research and writing courses: HONS 3300, followed by HONS 4300. Students do not meet in a classroom, but instead work independently, and in concert with a student-selected Faculty Thesis Director (FTD), in consultation with the Associate Dean, who oversees all Honors theses. The FTD must be a full-time Texas Tech University faculty member. With guidance, students work through a series of steps from the development of an argument to a completed thesis. In these two courses, students master the following skills: note-taking, effective outlining, integrating primary and secondary sources, document formatting, utilizing constructive feedback, argumentative and/or creative writing, and revising. The second semester of Honors Thesis (HONS 4300) culminates with Thesis Day, a celebration in which each student gives a brief presentation about their project (spring semester only). Students who successfully complete an Honors Thesis are eligible to graduate from the Honors College with the distinction of Highest Honors.

Prerequisite: To be admitted to the Honors Thesis program, students must be enrolled in the Honors College, be transitioning to the final two semesters of their degree program, and file an application for approval. Thesis courses are not offered during the summer terms.

Application: Honors students seeking an application should contact Beth Scheckel at Beth.Scheckel@ttu.edu. The deadline to complete the application process is the first day of class each fall and spring semester. Students should begin the application process by mid-semester of the term preceding enrollment in Thesis 1.
