

FINANCIAL HARDSHIP ADDENDUM

Although the University feels that students will have their best opportunities for a well-rounded educational experience living in a supervised residence hall designed for student living, there are some circumstances under which a student may be approved to live off campus. In the event a student presents sufficient evidence of an extreme financial hardship which precludes his/her enrollment at Texas Tech; the student may receive approval to live off campus. However, costs of on-campus room and board will usually be found comparable to those off campus after all necessary living expenses have been accounted for. Students requesting permission to live off campus due to a financial hardship must provide University Student Housing with the following documents:

- ☐ This form with all sections completed.
- ☐ The Application for Exemption from First Year On-Campus Residency Requirement.
- ☐ A personal statement explaining the student's reasoning for the request.

I hereby give permission for Texas Tech University's Financial Aid department to provide my FAFSA information to University Student Housing for use in determining financial need. In addition, I hereby grant permission for University Student Housing to discuss all matters associated with this request with either myself or, should it be needed, my parents and/or legal guardians.

 Student Aid Index (SAI) = The Student Aid Index (SAI) is an eligibility index number that a college's or career school's financial aid office uses to determine how much federal student aid the student would receive if the student attended the school. This number results from the information that the student provides in their FAFSA® form.
