Moderator Instructions

Introduction

Thank you for your willingness to serve as a moderator. Your role is critical to the success of the conference. Each presenter will have 20 minutes to present and 5 minutes for questions (25 minutes in total for each presentation). It is the moderator’s responsibility to strictly adhere to the 5 and 2 minute warnings and cut a speaker off once his/her 20 minutes are over. Even a minute over is unfair to the presenters that follow.

NOTE: If for any reason, you are unable to moderate your scheduled session, please find a replacement and notify a conference representative at the registration desk.

1. Moderating the Session
   - It is important that the moderator keep the pace of the presentations within the allotted time frame. Please aim to arrive early to your assigned room (possibly 10-15 minutes). Upon arrival please check that the audio/visual system is working and the room is organized and presentable. If there are any issues, please contact the Conference Registration Desk.
   - Meet and greet the speakers. Ask how they wish to be introduced (this is also a good time to get the correct pronunciation of names) and if the presenter is new to the conference, attempt to put them at ease. Let them know that you are there to assist, and tell them about the 5-minute and 2-minute warnings.
   - Have all of the presenters load their PowerPoint slides onto the computer before the session in order to save time between presentations.
   - Be in place to greet the audience, and try to get them to sit in front and then fill in to the back. If there are handouts, offer to assist.
   - Once all of the presenters are in place, make the following announcements:
     - Tell them about the 20-minute presentation and 5-minute questions format.
     - Mention that the fire exit staircases are at the end of the hall and that an alarm and instructions over the intercom system will sound for any emergencies.
     - Remind them to click on the speaker’s name on the GradConf App and complete the survey after the session is over.
   - At the appropriate time, hold up your “5” and “2” minute warning sign to let the presenter know how much time they have left. This is critical and is the most important task of the moderator. Once the speaker reaches the 20-minute mark, hold up the “STOP” sign and thank them. Then stand at the front of the room and facilitate the 5-minute question and answer session.
   - During the questions, constructive criticism is fine, but do not allow a member of the audience to harass the presenter. That is not the point of this conference.
