Note: The Journal List Committee rating system is consistent with TTU promotion and tenure dossiers (OP 32.01, Attachment B, P. 5). The scale for publications has the following definitions:

5 = Outstanding recognition in field, highly prestigious, refereed.

4 = Highly respected in field, refereed.

3 = Good reputation, selective in publication, refereed.

2 = Average, fairly easy to publish in, typically refereed.

1 = Below average publication, not discriminating on articles published.

0 = Not to be counted as publication.

2. Some publications do not achieve the status of an intellectual contribution that is meant to be recognized by this list. The following types of publications should be classified by the department chair, school director, or area coordinator as 0 (not to be counted as a publication) or S (special publication not ranked above) under OP 32.01 (Attachment B, p. 6): book reviews; editorials; guest editorials; errata (correcting errors); discussion (short papers criticizing a published paper at the discretion of the editor); research ideas, interpretations, etc.; and other articles that did not go through the standard peer review process of that particular journal. Other such exceptions may be identified for specific journals that are on the list.
