2024-2025 CHHS Cross-College Collaboration Seed Grant

The College of Health and Human Sciences (CHHS) announces a grant for CHHS faculty to collaborate with faculty in another college on a research project. The collaboration may be a partnership with a new faculty member or a new project with an existing collaborator.

Who is eligible?

- Full time CHHS faculty (professors of practice and tenure-track faculty) without current start-up and faculty who do not hold endowed professorships/endowed chair positions.

What is the grant amount and what can it be used for?

Two grants up to $10,000 each will be awarded and can be used for materials and supplies necessary to conduct the research (including the cost of human subject participation, hourly graduate or undergraduate assistant support, etc.). Faculty salary and travel will not be covered by the award.

What is required in the proposal?

The proposal is limited to 3 pages and includes:

1. Description of the research, including methodology and potential impact
2. Detailed timeline for project completion
3. Detailed budget and budget justification
4. Description of the roles of each collaborator
5. External grant to be applied for based on pilot data

How will proposals be reviewed?

Proposals will be evaluated based on

1. Submitting a complete application
2. Clarity of research project
3. Scientific merit/potential impact
4. Feasibility/timeline of the project
5. Appropriate budget and budget justification

Who will review proposals?

Members of the CHHS Research Committee will review proposals and make recommendations to the Associate Dean for Research. Members of the Research Committee are eligible to apply and will not review their own proposals.
