The Department of Kinesiology and Sport Management at Texas Tech University is seeking an Assistant Professor of Practice to teach a variety of undergraduate sport management courses.

Websites: TTU’s website is http://www.ttu.edu/, and the department’s website is http://www.depts.ttu.edu/ksm/.

Required Qualifications
- Minimum of master’s degree in sport management, business, or related field.
- Exceptional background and achievement in academic, business, government, or other professional practice for a decade or more.
- Experience working in the sport industry.
- Experience teaching undergraduate courses in sport management, such as current issues in intercollegiate athletics, human resource management in sport, international sport management, introduction to sport management, leadership and management in sport, social issues in sport, sport analytics, sport communication, sport facilities and event management, sport finance and economics, sport law, sport marketing, and sales and fundraising.

Preferred Qualifications
- An earned doctorate in sport management, business, or related field.
- A strong teaching background that includes creative online pedagogy.
- Demonstrated collegiality to participate in and support a collaborative working environment.
- Experience and interest in working with diverse student populations and first-generation students is highly desirable.

Responsibilities
- Teach four courses in the fall semester and four courses in the spring semester of a variety of undergraduate sport management courses.
- Participate in teaching workshops offered by the Teaching, Learning, and Professional Development Center at Texas Tech University to enhance instructional abilities.
- Contribute to the mission of the department as a colleague.

Rank: Assistant Professor of Practice

Salary: Salary is commensurate with qualifications.

Effective Date of Appointment: 9-month non-tenure-track appointment will be effective September 1, 2023.

Application Deadline: Evaluation of applications will begin on October 28, 2022, and will continue until the position is filled.
Application Procedures: Applications must be submitted online at: https://bit.ly/3w8AMW5 and include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, teaching statement, and list of names and contact information of three people who could be asked to provide letters of recommendation. Refer to requisition number 29998BR when applying.

The Department: The Department of Kinesiology and Sport Management offers a B.S. in Sport Management and M.S. in Sport Management. The department is housed in the Kinesiology and Sport Management Building that includes six classrooms, a student computer lab, and faculty offices. The department enrolls over 400 undergraduate students in Sport Management and over 50 master’s degree students in Sport Management. The department also has over 1,400 undergraduate and 30 graduate students earning a B.S. in Kinesiology and M.S. in Kinesiology respectively and a Ph.D. in Exercise Physiology.

The University: Texas Tech University enrolls over 41,000 students and is located in rapidly growing Lubbock, Texas, a center of cultural, commercial, medical, and professional services. Guided by its 2018-2025 Strategic Plan, Texas Tech University is actively pursuing strategic initiatives that will enhance its stature as a national research university. Texas Tech University recently surpassed the Hispanic undergraduate student population threshold necessary for designation as a Hispanic Serving Institution (HSI).

For additional information regarding this position contact:
Angela Lumpkin, Professor and Department Chair
Department of Kinesiology and Sport Management
Texas Tech University
Box 43011
Lubbock, TX 79409-3011
806-834-6935
angela.lumpkin@ttu.edu

As an Equal Employment Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer, Texas Tech University is dedicated to the goal of building a culturally diverse faculty committed to teaching and working in a multicultural environment. We actively encourage applications from all those who can contribute, through their research, teaching, and/or service, to the diversity and excellence of the academic community at Texas Tech University. The university welcomes applications from minoritized candidates, women, protected veterans, persons with disabilities, and dual-career couples.