The Career and Professional Development Center gives individualized attention to every student and develops a personalized plan for their success. The Center's staff provides networking opportunities to keep students, alumni, and employers connected. Workshops on topics ranging from career acquisition skills to employment readiness ensure that Texas Tech Law graduates are prepared for the job market.

Life at Tech Law

While some of the skills you will need can be learned in class, others may take you beyond the classroom into a world where collaboration, cooperation, and negotiation are a part of interacting with others. The open door to developing these skills is by participating in our advocacy programs, student organizations, and journals.

Journals

- Estate Planning & Community Property Law Journal
- Journal of the Energy Law Practitioner
