The Charles P. Bubany Endowed Professorship

There is no substitute for professors who care about their students as people, make them excited about learning, inspire them to achieve, and encourage them to pursue their dreams.

For five decades, Professor Charles P. Bubany has been that kind of professor. He has created an engaging, challenging, and supportive environment for students and has played a crucial role in shaping the law school experience for everyone at Texas Tech.

As we celebrated Chuck's 50 years of teaching, many alumni, colleagues, and members of Chuck's family joined together to honor his legacy through the creation of the Charles P. Bubany Endowed Professorship.

Established with a gift of at least $250,000, endowed professorships honor the person they are named after in perpetuity and inspire the holder of the professorship to reach new heights.

We are excited to establish the Charles P. Bubany Endowed Professorship and to continue attracting faculty who will enlighten, challenge, and prepare Texas Tech law students to lead successful and impactful lives—just like Chuck has done for the past five decades and continues to do today.
