Assistant Professor of Percussion

POSITION DESCRIPTION

The School of Music in the J.T. & Margaret Talkington College of Visual & Performing Arts at Texas Tech University invites applications for a full-time, 9-month, tenure-track, Assistant Professor of Percussion to begin September 1, 2025.

Position Number: 39948BR

Appointment: Tenure track, beginning fall 2025

Application Deadline: Applications are due on March 1, 2025.

Salary: Commensurate with qualifications and experience

MAJOR/ESSENTIAL FUNCTIONS:

In line with TTU's strategic priorities to engage and empower a diverse student body, enable innovative research and creative activities, and transform lives and communities through outreach and engaged scholarship, applicants should have experience working with diverse student populations at the undergraduate and/or graduate levels within individual or across the areas of teaching, research/creative activity, and service.

REQUIRED QUALIFICATIONS

1. An earned doctorate in percussion performance or a closely related field is required before the position's start date.
2. Evidence of professional performance experience and professional activity and/or a research profile that demonstrates the ability to emerge as a leader in the field of percussion performance.
3. Evidence of successful teaching of classical percussion (e.g., two and four-mallet keyboard, concert and rudimental snare drum, timpani, drumset).
4. Evidence of successful teaching of a variety of percussion-related subjects, including graduate-level courses in percussion literature and percussion pedagogy, as well as chamber music, percussion ensembles, and other courses in music.
5. Ability to perform service duties including, but not limited to: moving and repairing of percussion equipment, maintaining a large percussion inventory, recruiting, curricular review and programmatic assessment, and committee membership.
6. A record of collaborative work that demonstrates the ability to work collaboratively within and outside the university, regionally, nationally, and internationally.

PREFERRED QUALIFICATIONS

In addition to the required qualifications, individuals with the following preferred qualifications are strongly encouraged to apply:

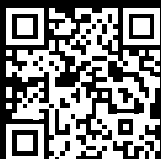

1. Successful teaching record as a faculty member at a college or university.
2. Experience with coaching and teaching non-Western styles in one-on-one and chamber settings.
3. Evidence of successful teaching of marching percussion/drumline.
4. Ability to recruit and retain a percussion studio of undergraduate and graduate students.
5. Excellent organization and communication skills, demonstrating an ability to help oversee a complex studio schedule.

EQUAL OPPORTUNITY STATEMENT:

All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, national origin, age, disability, genetic information or status as a protected veteran.

SAFETY INFORMATION:

Adherence to robust safety practices and compliance with all applicable health and safety regulations are responsibilities of all TTU employees.
