Other Degree Requirements

Qualifying Examinations

Must complete all prior to enrollment in MUSI 8304.

- Music Theory Qualifying Exam (offered three times a year: Spring, Summer, Fall)
- Music History Qualifying Exam (offered three times a year: Spring, Summer, Fall)
- Area Exam (arranged with the student's primary applied teacher and representatives from the major area)

Doctoral Performance Projects

All doctoral performance projects should be approximately one hour in length.

The first DMA Performance Project will be a qualifying solo recital. Normally, this recital will take place in the first or second semester after acceptance into the program. The student must pass the qualifying recital with a grade of B- or better; otherwise, they will not be allowed to continue in the chosen program of study. An applicant who fails to pass the qualifying recital with a grade of B- or better may, with the permission of the student's recital committee, be allowed only one opportunity to replay the recital in the following semester. The qualifying recital must be completed by the third semester following acceptance into the degree.

Following the presentation of the qualifying solo recital, subsequent doctoral performance projects may be completed in any order, with the exception of the final recital. One recital should be focused solely on chamber music. The final project must be accompanied by a substantial document of high scholarly quality (the DMA document), as advised by the student's major professor and advisory committee. The faculty must approve of all projects in advance.

Graduate Certificates (Optional)

Graduate Certificates at Texas Tech are credentialing courses of study of approximately 15 credit hours that students may pursue simultaneously with regular graduate degrees, or as stand-alone programs.
